

Preliminary Agreement on Quad-City Sewage Disposal System

A cooperative program for development of an areawide sewage disposal system embracing all four townships of the Quad-City area was agreed upon in preliminary form Tuesday night in a meeting of township officials and Granite City representatives.

The township committee, made up of the supervisors of Granite City, Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships, and County Board Chairman Harold Landolt, agreed in principle during the discussion to guarantee a sewer rental fee that would give the city an income equivalent to 20% of the total cost of an interceptor sewer system necessary to handle sewage disposal from Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships, so long as such fee remains "within a reasonable range."

On this basis the township representatives and city officials instructed their respective attorneys—William Schooley for the townships and Leon Scroggins for the city—to jointly prepare a written agreement of cooperation. Such an agreement would be subject to ratification by the township group and by the Granite City council.

The program involves a plan by the townships to install sewers in Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships, with sewage to be discharged into the Granite City interceptors and treated at the Granite City Sewage Treatment plant. While Granite City township is not involved in sewer construction phases because the township lines are the same as those of the city, it is an integral part of the four-township unit promoting the Quad-City area program.

The township group necessarily ties in with the city's plans to construct secondary treatment facilities with a deadline set by the Environmental Protection Agency for Dec. 31, 1973. Engineers are now preparing plans for the secondary sewage treatment plant—which would provide treatment capacity sufficient to handle the additional volume from the townships—and for an interceptor sewer system that would extend beyond city lines into the township areas.

Attending the meeting for the city were Mayor Donald Partney, Aldermen Walter Norn and Claude Greene of the city council's Pollution Plant Committee, and Scroggins. Representing the township committee were Supervisors Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, Arthur "Cooper" Moore of Venice, Louis Whitsell of Nameoki and Walter Sparks of Chouteau. Edward Jusawo of the engineering firm of Shepherd, Morgan & Schwaab who is handling the township engineering work, Landolt and Schooley.

City Budget, Employee Agreements Are Vetoed

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Asserting that "the financial position of the city has become desperate," Mayor Donald Partney vetoed Monday night the 1971-72 Granite City budget bill and a series of union working agreements for city employees that were approved by the city council in its July 19 meeting.

In a six-point veto message concerning the budget, the mayor pointed out that no economies had been effected by the aldermen in setting up the new $3,819,883 appropriation adopted last week and that the budget is "far in excess of our income."

The action knocked out the new budget, which finance officials worked weeks to complete, nullified the salary raises granted by previous council action and invalidated the council's July 19 approval of a series of working pacts for city employees that had been reached between the unions and the council's Special Negotiating Committee.

Veto Upheld

Surprisingly enough, the mayor's veto of the budget was upheld without a dissenting vote in a motion by Alderman Roy Poulos and a second by Alderman William Dallas. The veto of the working agreements was opposed by a bloc of aldermen who insisted on a roll call vote on a motion by Alderman Clyde Boyd to override the veto, and were soundly beaten.

The council's apparent change of heart over the financial stability of the budget and the working agreements apparently resulted from an explanation by Partney that the expanded fringe benefits allowed city employees result in a seriously increased cost load that was not accounted for in the budget.

"This budget and these fringe benefits are not realistic," the mayor said after announcing his veto. "The whole thing (the budget and agreements) should go back to the Finance Committee, and the Negotiating Committee and be worked over."

This proposal presented the council with a time problem since appropriation measures must be adopted by municipalities prior to Aug. 1 to comply with state statutes. After first announcing his veto Monday night, the mayor told the council that "there is plenty of time" because the budget could be worked out during August.

Advises Mayor

But City Attorney Leon Scroggins walked up to the mayor's desk after that remark and talked with him a few minutes.

"I stand corrected," the mayor said. "The city attorney has just informed me that the budget must be passed this month."

A discussion of the best night for a special meeting followed, with the mayor and council members agreeing to hold a special session Friday night for adoption of a new budget. Meanwhile, Mayor Partney is to meet with the Finance Committee, headed by Alderman Thomas Boker as chairman, and the Special Negotiating Committee, also headed by Boker. At least part of these discussions were scheduled last night.

In announcing his veto of the budget, the mayor said that he regretted it was necessary to do so, but noted he considered it necessary to veto the ordinance for the following reasons:

"1. There has been no economy move presented by the majority of the Board of Aldermen.

"2. There have been no economy moves accepted by the majority of the Board of Aldermen that were presented by the mayor. (Earlier this year the mayor proposed a budget that totaled $400,000 less than the budget finally adopted.)

"3. The financial position of the city has become desperate."

"4. The need of $400,000 for operating costs from May to July 1971 (to finance operation prior to the first tax distributions.)

"5. The mayor did not have a copy of the budget that was presented by the Finance Committee to the Board of Aldermen for passage.

"6. The budget is far in excess of our income."

Would Exceed Budget

Mayor Partney said that expanded fringe benefits allowed by the negotiating committee in new pacts reached with unions representing city employees were not considered in the budget and that actual expenditures would be "well over the amount of money budgeted for payrolls and fringes."

He said this excess of the budget total would be added to approximately $400,000 needed to operate the city during the

48 'Little Miss Jubilee' Hopefuls in Title Race

Forty-eight young girls, many attired in colorful turn-of-the-century print dresses with polka bonnets framing their faces, are scrambling about the community seeking supporters to help efforts to become "Little Miss Jubilee."

Mrs. Lily Chaboude, chairman of the "Little Miss Jubilee" contest, reported that competition is "very keen" between the 48 youngsters who have so far registered for the title race. Kellie Diane Pickens heads the list of girls, whose ages range from 3 to 12 years, in the first week of the community-wide contest sponsored in conjunction with the Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Close behind Kellie in accumulating votes are Brigitte S. Kittel, second, Olivia Schroeder, third and Tracy Hadley, fourth.

Other "Little Miss Jubilee" leaders, listed in sequence in the contest standings for the initial week are:

Laura Lynn Starr, Gayle Lynn Spalding, Kim Maria Seebold, Mary Ruth, Karen Powell, Candace Becerra, Elaine Marie Reinegel, Debbie Baldwin, Deborah Ann Thebaud, Carla Brooks, Mary Virginia Earmey, Carla Mary French, Karen Ellen Spencer, Eddie Noel Schilling, Teresa Jo Reynolds and June Marie Justus.

The participating youngsters began their campaigns to sell advance Jubilee certificates or coupons on July 19.

Purchasers Save 50 Cents

The coupons, costing $1.50 each, may be redeemed by the purchaser for tickets worth $2 each, to the Diamond Jubilee Pageant — "Profiles in Progress."

The historical production, portraying development of the community over the past 75 years, will be staged on six consecutive evenings in Wilson Park, beginning Monday, Aug. 23. Funds

Signal Lights Planned At Maryville School

The Nameoki Town Board took the first step to install crossing lights at Maryville School at its meeting Monday night as William Schooley, board attorney, was instructed to prepare specifications and Douglas Teator, town clerk, was authorized to advertise for bids as soon as specifications are available.

Whitsell also announced that he will recommend the entire Maryville Slough as a possible park site after a project to drain the area has been completed. As a member of the Madison County Department of Parks and Recreation, Whitsell said he hopes to have that board's support for the project under the "Open Spaces" program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

He offered to assist Thomas L. Staicoff, president of the Pontoon Beach village board of trustees, in applying for an open-space grant for areas of the village suitable for small parks. Whitsell commented that

Initial Defense Witness

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Attorneys for Granite City Steel Co. opened their defense against Environmental Protection Agency charges of alleged air pollution violations Wednesday morning in Granite City Hall when they introduced West German coke oven specialist as their first defense witness.

Introduction of the witness interrupted the prosecution's case, but Hearing Examiner Samuel Lawton Jr. ruled that the specialist should be heard before returning to West Germany this weekend.

Dr. Werner Eisenhut, an official of the Steinkohlenbergbauverein consulting firm in Essen, West Germany, was called to testify about new developments in pollution control devices for coke ovens.

Eisenhut is a recognized specialist in the area as a member of West Germany's environmental protection cabinet and an advisor to the United Nations. He works with the German ministries of economics, federal government, health and labor for social questions.

With the Steinkohlenbergbauverein company, he works with government experts in setting up guidelines for measuring emissions from coke plants and mining operations, and is on a working group made of representatives of the government, mining operations, iron and steel coke operations and municipal works utilizing coke ovens.

The group suggests regulations to the government for controlling the industries and pollution.

On the witness stand yesterday, Eisenhut testified that several kinds of charging operations in Europe are now workable for the Granite City Steel Co. plant because of different types of coal and other factors.

Testimony yesterday centered around the development of Larson's plan to carry coal for charging to the coke ovens. Eisenhut described three types of Larson's including those with wet scrubbers, those with steam scrubbers and gravity cars. He also described other factors.

Shareholders of GC Steel Voting on Merger Proposal

Stockholders of Granite City Steel Co. were to vote in a special meeting this afternoon on the proposed merger of the company into a wholly-owned subsidiary of National Steel Corporation. The meeting was scheduled at 2 p.m.

If approved, the merger would involve issuance of 4445 of a share of National Steel capital stock to Granite City Steel stockholders for each share of GC common stock.

A majority vote of the 3,438,989 outstanding shares of common stock and two-thirds vote of the 57,616 outstanding shares of preferred stock are required for approval of the merger.

If stockholders approve, the merger would become effective in mid-August. It was to have become effective on July 31 if approved by stockholders, but the effective date was postponed two weeks to allow the Justice Department more time to review the plan.

Nicholas P. Veeder, board chairman and chief executive officer of Granite City Steel Co., has told stockholders in a letter accompanying proxy statements that the merger "will result in greater and more diversified earning power for stockholders through operating economies, the integration of facilities, and the organizational strengths of National and Granite City Steel, and diversification of resources of the two companies."

National Steel has formed a wholly-owned subsidiary called GCS Corporation. Granite City Steel would not merge with National Steel itself, but with GCS Corp. If approved, when it becomes effective, GCS Corp. then would change its name to Granite City Steel Company.

In effect, the present independent Granite City Steel Co. would cease to exist and in its place would be a new Granite City Steel Co. as a wholly-owned subsidiary of National Steel.

Under merger plans, the present 10-member board of directors of National Steel would be reduced to 12. The two new directors would be from the present GCS board—Veeder and Charles R. Chambers, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Interco, Inc.

State Commission May Study Lottery, Off-Track Betting

By JERRY OWENS
Copley News Service

Springfield — Now that bingo is legal in Illinois, how about legalizing lotteries and off-track betting as additional revenue-producing sources for the state?

The first step in that direction was taken during the 1971 legislative session when the General Assembly passed a bill setting up a 12-member commission to study lotteries and off-track betting as a possible means of bolstering state coffers — without putting the bite again on harried taxpayers.

The next move is up to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. The bill appropriates $15,000 for the panel to use to investigate legalized gambling in other states.

But Ogilvie looms large in the picture. Under new veto powers granted the chief executive, he may reduce or eliminate the appropriations; or he may veto the entire bill and kill the study before it begins.

Study New York, Others

The bill was sponsored in the House by Rep. E. J. "Zeke" Giorgi, (D-Rockford). Giorgi's commission, which is to report back to the legislature next February, would investigate state lotteries now operating in New Jersey, New York, New Hampshire, and Connecticut, and New York's recently enacted off-track betting system. California is also considering establishment of a state-controlled lottery, Giorgi says. He claims the commission to be set up under his plan would be structured to make certain that criminal elements would not infiltrate the system.

Commission members would include the state law enforcement director, the superintendent of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation, a police chief, a sheriff and eight lawmakers (four from each house).

Ogilvie reportedly is cool toward use of a lottery as a source of state revenue. In fact, the governor signed the bill only after becoming convinced there were ample safeguards to keep organized crime away.

Chicago Mayor Richard Daley is among others who have said the idea is at least worth looking into, implying support for a study.

One of Giorgi's backers is Rep. John Fary, (D-Chicago), who claims lotteries would provide "an excellent source of revenue and a good substitute for tax increases."

Fary sponsored the legislation to legalize bingo, where the state will receive 10% of the revenue, or an estimated $1 million the first year alone. The Senate sponsor of the bingo bill, Howard Mohr, (R-Forest Park), also was upper chamber sponsor of Giorgi's measure.

Noting that $600 million a year is lost at Illinois race tracks, producing about $40 million in revenue to the state (7%), Giorgi believes legalized off-track betting would bring in at least another $40 million — and probably much more.

And a state-operated lottery, he feels, would bring in a minimum of $50-million and probably closer to $100 million.

He says he has been told that Ogilvie, in 1970, urged a study be made of lotteries and off-track betting. "That's all I'm asking," Giorgi says, "for the governor to sign the bill and let the commission do its work and explore the possibilities."

Venice Opposes Illinois Power Rate Boost Plea

The Venice City Council voted Tuesday at its regular meeting to oppose a proposed rate increase by the Illinois Power Co. The council was notified by letter that a hearing on an Illinois Power Co. application for a general increase in electric rates will be held at the Illinois State Office building in Springfield at 9:30 a.m. Aug. 12 by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Mayor John E. Lee instructed the city clerk to write a letter of objection to the ICC. Alderman Louis Ratliff of the Street and Alley committee asked that the city check into a safety hazard where south-bound traffic out of Line alley runs into Market street, and where Fox road runs into Market street. Ratliff said that stop signs should be erected. A question was raised that the Fox road and Market street intersection may in the City of Madison. If it is, then Madison will be asked to erect the stop sign.

Sewer Work Progresses
Superintendent of Streets Jay Maurer reported that the South Fourth street sewer project is the Lola Williams subdivision is about three-fourths completed.

The police arrest report for the month of June stated there were 12 adults and 21 juveniles arrested. A check for $104.88 from the office of William Portell, clerk of the Circuit Court for fines collected during the month of June 1971, was received.

Mayor Lee called attention to plans of the Venice Lions Club to hold a public barbecue to benefit Explorer Scout Thomas Hooks who was hurt seriously in Washington D.C. June 4, while attending a Scout conference.

Lee stated the barbecue would be held Aug. 21 and 22 at St. Mark's Church, the Venice-Madison Legion Home, and Schermer's lot in Madison.

The next meeting of the Venice City Council will be held Aug. 10 at 8 p.m., at the Venice city hall.

three to four months period between the end of the fiscal year (April 30) and the time the first tax collections are distributed, usually in early August.

The mayor's veto of the budget met only little discussion. When Mayor Parney announced the veto, Alderman Walter Nenn asked:

"Does this include the $50 monthly raise and all the rest?"

"This means everything," the mayor replied.

"Then this is a total veto?" Alderman R. E. Robertson asked.

"It is," the mayor said.

After acceptance of the budget veto, Alderman Boyd protested throwing out all of the working agreements and moved that the council override the veto.

On a roll call that also followed only brief discussion, only four of the 11 aldermen present at Monday's meeting voted in favor of overriding the veto. They were Boyd, Dallas, Claude Green and Emerald Daves. Voting against overriding the veto were Nenn, Alderman Sam Whitmer, Steve Basarich, Baker and Frank Greenwald. Robertson and Paullos voted present.

Absent Monday night were Aldermen Gerald Parney, Everett Morlen and Paul Schuler.

The budget voted by Parney was $821,784 more than last year's appropriation. The total of $3,819,903 was an all-time record high budget.

Furnace Failure to Cause Some Layoffs

The "A" blast furnace at Granite City Steel Company's blast furnace department will be shut down "several weeks" for repairs, resulting in some temporary layoffs, a company spokesman said today.

A brick failure caused shutdown of the furnace last week, but extent of repairs could not be determined until workers could enter the unit to inspect it.

Because the furnace failure will reduce production at the mill, the company has obtained supplies of semi-finished steel to supplement its reduced output and meeting customers' orders, the spokesman said. Layoffs are on a temporary basis and will coincide as much as possible with vacation schedules, it was said.

derived from the advance coupon sale are being used to defray expenses of the lavish state show.

Mrs. Chaboude noted that coupon purchasers not only help a young woman in her quest of the "Little Miss Jubilee" title, but also save 50 cents on each page ticket.

Coupon sales during the initial week credited the youngsters' totals. Staggered turn-in dates have been arranged with bonus percentages decreasing as the Jubilee dates draw closer.

Votes are accumulated by the candidates in comparison to the number of coupons sold. Mrs. Chaboude explained, attached to each coupon is a vote stub and each completed stub is worth 1,000 votes to the selling contestant.

Worth 5,000 Votes

For each book of coupons sold, the candidate receives 5,000 extra votes. Additional votes will be cast by patron seal purchasers, each of whom has a vote privilege of 5,000 votes for the candidate of his choice.

The girls may sell patron seals to businesses who have not been contacted by the Patron's Ticket Committee, it was learned. Patron seal purchasers will have their names listed in the pageant's official souvenir program.

Total votes for each contestant will be tabulated at the end of turn-in period and the standing of the top 20 girls published in the Press-Record and posted at Jubilee headquarters, 1930 Edison Ave.

In addition to serving at official functions during pageant week, "Little Miss Jubilee" and her court will receive many gifts donated by local merchants, including televisions, clothing items, radios and a trip to the Six Flags Over Mid-America amusement park.

Any girl from the age of 3 to 12 years, who resides in Granite City, may register at Jubilee headquarters for the contest, Mrs. Chaboude said.

The contest director said official photographs of candidates are being taken by Calvin Lazebny and will be displayed, starting next week, in the window of Illinois Power Co. at Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues.

Family Membership Rates Set by YMCA

The YMCA board of directors is announcing an adjustment in its family membership rate.

The annual rate is $80 payable in full or $85 on a time payment plan which includes $30 down and monthly payments of $25, $20 and $10. Fathers wishing to join the "Y" Health Club may do so for an additional fee of $25 a year.

Family membership provides parents and children from 6 to 18 with full privileges. Children 5 and under may participate in family group activities and in special programs designed for them at a discounted rate from that charged non-members.

The family program will be expanded to include family recreation, camping, trips, sex education and others.

More details may be obtained by phoning the "Y."

Woman, 19, Arrested After Knifing Incident

Carolyn Hensley, 19, of 2201 Rock Road, was arrested at her home on a charge of aggravated battery after police received a report at 2:30 a.m. today of an incident at the home of Lois Davis, 2608 Denver St., involving a woman with a knife.

The Davis woman, who was cut on the left forearm and signed the complaint, told police the Hensley woman approached her door, invited her outside and pulled the knife from a pair of shorts when she did so. A scuffle followed, she added, and the Hensley woman threw down the knife and ran.

Mounds Once Capital Of Indians, Club Told

The vital archeological nature of "diggings" at Cahokia Mounds State Park was explained to Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday by William Isenminger, assistant curator, who said the mounds area was the native capital of the Mississippian Indians 1,000 years ago.

The pace of excavation and study is being stepped up this week but, as is customary, will be suspended this fall.

The sites where Indians lived, worshiped and buried their dead will be covered over during the winter and then will be the subject of additional research when warm weather returns, he said.

The Rev. Louis Ottelg was program chairman.

Richard West, Rotary vice-president, presided and reported that the new district governor will visit the club Oct. 5. Plans were made for Rotarians to take part in the Granite City Jubilee parade at 2 p.m. Aug. 21.

$1,900,000 Proposed for Alton, GC Locks

The House Public Works Committee Appropriations subcommittee has recommended $1,900,000 for Alton Lock and Dam No. 26 on the Mississippi River in the presidential budget, and committee action is expected this week.

The money is for continued planning of a $224 million lock and dam to be built two miles downstream from the present Alton Lock.

Of $1 million listed for Mississippi River nine-foot channel regulation between the Missouri and Ohio Rivers, $200,000 is to start construction on walls to guide towboats into Granite City Lock 27.

Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, recreational supervisor, announced today.

Inclement weather Tuesday forced postponement of the annual sports meet, she advised. Hundreds of youngsters representing 11 playground centers will compete for honors in events which include dashes, jumping, obstacle races and similar activities.

Voting Machine Storage Needed Soon

Concern is developing among Madison County officials over future storage of the 412 voting machines used in primary and general elections.

Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk, conferring Monday afternoon with the Madison County Public Building Commission, favored construction of a single building of sufficient size to store and service the machines and to prepare ballot strips for them.

Asking what would be "the worst that could happen" if a storage solution is not achieved, she said the worst would be a return to use of paper ballots. However, this is not expected to be necessary.

220x100 Warehouse

Noting that there is a primary election next spring, Miss Hotz suggested that the issue be resolved by then. She recommended that the commission proceed at this time with a 22,000-square-foot warehouse with capacity for 500 machines. This would allow about 44 square feet for each of the bulky machines.

The voting machines currently are stored throughout the county without space to service them. Miss Hotz said the servicing could require more than a month or two.

The machines cannot be serviced at the polls, she said, as they cannot be distributed to the precincts long enough before the election to permit the work to be carried out.

Commissioner Harold R. Fischer of Granite City mentioned use of one of the large Granite City Army Depot buildings as a temporary warehouse for use in one election. Other locations are to be sought and considered.

Commissioners suggested that Architect Alva Breitweiser give the storage building top priority in his planning of possible new county governmental structures.

Injured in Crash

Miss Linda Webb, 20, of 1941 Rhodes St., Madison, was injured when her auto was struck from the rear on Third Street at State Street in Madison at 10:30 a.m. yesterday, by the auto of Joseph Narvaez, 1604 Fifth St., Madison. Miss Webb complained of pain to her neck and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital. She was released after examination and spinal x-rays.

Marjorie Ferris, 40, of 1638 Delmar Ave., suffered minor injuries when her auto struck the rear of the auto of William Farmer, 2035a Delmar Ave., parked in front of his home at 5:40 p.m. Tuesday.

The Farmer car was shoved 20 feet into a tree. Mrs. Ferris said she lost control when a large box on the front seat fell over on her as she was making a left turn from 21st Street.

Encouraging news about the Southern corn blight situation in Illinois was relayed to farmers attending Southern Illinois University soils and crops field days at the SIU-Bellefonte Reand what Shurtleff called overzealous scare reports in news media. The present encouraging outlook is based on the rapid advancement of corn. Much of the

How can taxpayers best protect themselves from practically increased property taxes? By taking advantage of the IAA.

That point is made in an article on the impact of Illinois tax changes which appears in the current issue of IAA, the official magazine of the Illinois Agricultural Association, statewide Farm Bureau.

Each county distributes money by county—the amount of state money which has been distributed to counties in the form of federal and state income tax sharing, elementary and secondary school aid, and motor vehicle taxes. In 1989, for example, the state distributed $803,069,000 to the counties in the four categories and that amount will be increased in fiscal 1992 to $1,534,586,000.

The IAA Record article points out that Farm Bureau members (as well as other taxpayers) can

By taking advantage of elected representatives in state government, you can help.

If we are to have effective local government, an enlightened local citizenry must give the direction as to what priorities are important. How much they are willing to pay for such programs. The slogan is "local control, local government and direction of local government may be state control of local government. The choice is yours."

The article on the impact of tax changes in Illinois was prepared by Leonard Gardner, secretary of the IAA, and its legislative activities, with the cooperation of the Illinois Farm Bureau. The Record also provided the IAA with the county revenue figures and county

The grand jury report Monday followed generally the criticisms contained in the earlier audit report.

Beverly Partney, chairman of the Granite City Diamond Jubilee decorations committee, said she has received letters and contracts for rentals of decorations for the Granite City Diamond Jubilee.

She said that the letter and contract should be read carefully, then fill out the contract and mail them to the Diamond Jubilee Headquarters, 1930 Edison Ave.

Mrs. Partney said that residents of the Granite City area are urged to have their homes decorated. Anyone wishing to do so may leave their names on a list at the headquarters or call Mrs. Partney at 757-8257.

GENE BRIGGS

Gene Briggs To Enroll At SIU-SW

An outstanding prep scholar athlete, Granite City's Gene Briggs, has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University - Southwest. John Flanner, SIU-SW's varsity cross country coach, made the announcement.

Briggs, who captained the Granite City High School cross country team his junior and senior years, was in the upper 15% of his June graduating class of 850.

In addition to lettering three years as a member of Dick Harmon's Warriors, Briggs lettered in soccer (a full-back) as the Granite City kickers posted a 15-4 record, and lettered twice in track.

Briggs, who took third in both the Southwest Illinois Conference and district cross country competition, holds the Granite City record of 13:05 over the 2.5-mile Wilson Park course.

Former Cougar hurdler Dan Burris, also a Granite City High grad, had held the record. Burris is now in the U. S. Navy.

Don "Big Daddy" Garlits of Seffner, Fla., will be fighting fierce competition from John Wiebe, Gary Cochran, Jim Nicoll and Chris Karamessines to maintain his point lead in the American Hot Rod Assn. Gateway Nationals at the St. Louis International Raceway Friday, Saturday and Sunday, one of the 10 largest AHRA meets this year.

Garlits, 39, is currently in the midst of the best season in his 24-year drag racing career, and he's doing it in a brand new rear-engine AA/fuel dragster.

Garlits and 500 of the nation's finest drag racers will be competing for $150,000 in prize money, contingencies and manufacturer awards at the championship meet. Track President Wayne Meinert announced that the event will be one of the largest ever held in the Midwest.

Seventh in Series
It is the seventh meet in the 10-race Grand American Series. Previous meets were held in Long Beach, Calif.; Phoenix, Ariz.; West Palm Beach, Fla.; Fort Worth, Texas; Baton Rouge, La.; and Denver, Colo.

A winner of seven national titles, Garlits is pioneering the rear-engine fueler and is proving that the radical change in intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University - Southwest. John Flanner, SIU-SW's varsity cross country coach, made the announcement.

Wiebe, Cochran Entered
He currently is the leader in the Grand American Series points chase. His total of 4,700 points is 300 better than John Wiebe of Newton, Kan., and 950 more than Gary Cochran of Fountain Valley, Calif. The St. Louis championship is worth 1,200 points.

Wiebe, billed as Garlits' eventual successor to the title of being No. 1 in the AA/fuel ranks, is defending his AHRA World title. He was the 1969 Rouge winner and is the AHRA speed record holder with a

THE RAW POWER with which a AA/fuel dragster leaves the starting line is shown here by Chris Karamessines who has the rail's nose high in the air as the slicks spin and the rear drags the ground in a flurry of sparks. timing of 227.84 miles an hour. Cochran's third-place total is all the more surprising because he has to qualify for one of the eight unseeded spots every meet. Garlits and Wiebe are guaranteed positions in the seeded category.

Cochran held the frontrunning points spot for more than half the season because of wins at Long Beach and Phoenix. The only other AA/fuel winner is Jim Nicoll of Spring Valley, Calif., the West Palm Beach victor.

Professional drivers in the funny car and pro-stock classes, as well as drivers in competition, street and top stock eliminators; GT-1 and GT-2 eliminators; and two classes of motorcycles, also will be out for points and prize money.

Mercer to Host Troy In Inter-City Play. Boosters to be Idle

Mercer will host a top Troy team Sunday in southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League action at Wilson Park while St. Mary's Boosters enjoy an open date.

Troy's Red Birds, with a 9- and 2 record, first will face off against Mollor Motors, 10-and-1 for the season, in a night game under the lights at 8 p.m. Friday at Collinsville's Fletcher Field.

In their last meeting, the Red Birds edged Mercer 4-3 on May 30. The starting pitcher for Mercer, now 5-and-7, is expected to be Bob Finke.

The Boosters will resume action on Sunday, Aug. 8, in a home game with Maryville. The league schedule for Sunday also places Glen Carbon (5-7) at East Alton to meet the Machinist Union (6-3), Fairfax at Collinsville against Mollor and Highland-Pierson (3-6) at Maryville (4-7).

Five Prep Stars Cougar Signees

Five Illinois high school track and field stars have signed letters of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. Jack Whitted, the Cougar track coach who inaugurated the sport two years ago here, made the announcement.

From Alton comes Kevin Dooley, a high jumper and hurdler. Two sprinters, Stanton's Nick Wineburner and Bethalto's Dale Bottoms, have signed. Rosana High's shot-putter, Dave Stanton, and Columbia's Paul Britten, a long jumper, complete the quintet.

Last year, Whitted's track and field forces posted a 7-2 record and qualified one dash man, George Tyus of Madison, for the post-season National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field meet in California in June.

The Cougars, who hope to have their new track in operation by next spring, were 5-5 in their inaugural season under Whitted in 1970.

turning the funny car points chase into a laughing matter.

Snow, the Fort Worth, Tex., driver who has walked away with four AHRA national championships already this season, holds a commanding point lead over his two nearest challengers Dick Harrell of Kansas City, Mo., and Mart Higginbotham of Dallas, Tex.

These three, with 500 of the nation's best drag racing drivers, will be on hand when the Funny Cars convene this weekend.

Snow has been practically unstoppable as he has piled up 6,400 points. Higginbotham, winner of the West Palm Beach race, is runnerup with 3,700 markers, and Harrell, the Phoenix victor, is third with 3,200 points.

Other top challengers include Leroy Goldstein's "Ramchargers" Dodge; Mickey Thompson's "Peter Paul Candies" Pinto; Tom Hoover's "White Bear Dodge" Challenger; and Tom Prock's Vega.

Strip Improved
St. Louis International Raceway has been undergoing extensive changes, including the lengthening of the former one-eighth mile strip to a quarter-mile distance.

New sound and timing systems have been installed, and grandstands have been erected.

In honor of the event, St. Louis Mayor James S. Sullivan has officially designated Friday, Saturday and Sunday as "Drag Racing Days" in the city.

Gates will open at 3 p.m. tomorrow with time trials, official AHRA record runs and qualifying sessions. Saturday's activities get under way at noon and a special AA/fuel and funny car program will begin at 8 p.m. with a $50,000 purse.

Sunday's finale will begin at 8 a.m. with further qualifying sessions, and final eliminations will start at 1 p.m.

Tickets can be obtained at the gate or any Sears store. The track is located at the intersection of Interstate 70 and Route 203 southwest of Granite City.

Claude 'Junior' Poole Named to Hall of Fame

The late Claude "Junior" Poole will be inducted into the Illinois State Amateur Softball Association Hall of Fame at 8 p.m. Saturday at Wilson Park where he played and was one of Granite City's outstanding softball pitchers.

The state ASA Hall of Fame Committee met in March 27, 1971, to make selections for the first 10 softball players who were to be inducted.

Claude "Junior" Poole was the only player from Southern Illinois to be selected.

Junior Poole started his pitching career in 1938 while playing for Joe's Service Station. During World War II Poole played on the championship team at Camp Chaffee, Fort Smith, Ark. While stationed in Europe in 1944 he played in the European finals, losing 1-0.

In the early years of his career, Poole pitched for Swift's Packing Co., Southern Illinois champion for many years. In 1948 he pitched for the Granite City Amvets, park champion, here. In 1949 and 1949 he pitched for the Zenthofer Furs of St. Louis which won the championship both years. During the fifties, he pitched for the Dominoes team of Alton.

During his career, he was one of the outstanding softball pitchers of the area. His teammates always had one thing in mind if Poole was pitching—"If Poole pitches, we can't lose."

He pitched some perfect games and had many no-hitters. During his top years he averaged 18 strike-outs per game. On May 5, 1960, the Granite City Park District honored Junior Poole by naming the 35 and Over League the Claude "Junior" Poole Thirty Five and Over Slow Pitch Softball League.

Harold Brown, regional Amateur Softball commissioner, will present to Mrs. Claude Poole the Hall of Fame plaque in honor of her late husband.

Any former ball players who played with Poole are invited to attend the ceremonies.

The best idea to come out of Detroit in years.

Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, someone once said. And never before has our modest car been on the receiving end of so much flattery. What with the Big 3 auto makers coming out with a little 3. And one even promising not to change designs for five years. Of course, it wasn't always like this. Take 1949, for instance. The only people who liked the Beetle then were the two who bought it.

But being first with an idea also has its advantages. Nobody, for example, has the experience we have working on a single small car. We've had the time to test our idea. And improve it thousands of times. And refine it thousands of times. Every step the others take, we've been through before. In fact, it's kind of funny now. Watching the makers of 425 horsepower engines try to catch up with a Volkswagen.

Paddlers Swamp Sunset By 369-241

Bill Beatty of Granite City, freshman coach of the Sunset Hills swim team, Tuesday evening watched his country club squad swamp 369-241 by Paddlers' Swim Club, a team on which he was a top competitor a short time ago.

The Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association (SWISA) dual conference meet was hosted by the hometown team at Paddlers pool. The local swimmers will meet SWISA's number one team—Summers-Port—at the Alton club's pool next Tuesday.

A major factor in Paddlers' win this week was Mary Beatty, a sister of the Sunset Hills coach, who captured three first-place victories. The Paddler swimmer, competing in the 11-12 age group, took blue ribbons in freestyle, individual medley and butterfly races.

Three other local team members won triple first place awards. Alice Miller, 13-14, won first in breaststroke and individual medley races and was the top scorer in the 15-17 diving event.

Eric Cunningham, 15-17, earned first-place ribbons in butterfly, breaststroke and individual medley events, and Kenny Jolly won first in the same strokes competing in the 9-10 age group.

Playground All-Star Softball Game Set Today at Wilson Park

Players were named this week to compete in the Granite City Park District playground softball league's "All-Star Game" set for today at Wilson Park.

Competition between the league's American and National Divisions will be sparked by players selected from playground centers operated by the park district.

Each division's top team—Nameoki Center in the American and Marshall Center in the National Division—has assigned four players to the all-star squad, according to Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, summer recreation director.

Representatives from the remaining centers also were chosen to perform in today's contest.

A double winner with firsts in individual medley and freestyle races and Dave Jolly also earned top scores in the 9-10 freestyle and backstroke events.

Families Produce Firsts
Youngsters from the same families appeared frequently among the team leaders in Tuesday's contest, Paddler Coach Jeff Spector noted.

In addition to brothers Ken and Dave Jolly winning three and two blue ribbons, respectively, two other brothers, Tommy and Mike Becherer, tied for first place in the 11-12 breaststroke event.

Their sister, Janet Becherer won a first-place award in the 9-10 individual medley race and a cousin, Kathy Becherer, scored first in the 9-10 freestyle contest.

Mike Baggot, 13-14, captured a first in backstroke; his brother, Paddy Jolly Baggot, 15-17, a first in the same stroke and their sister, Rosaleen Baggot, 9-10, took the top spot in butterfly.

Other Paddler swimmers gaining first-place berths were Sherry Rose, 15-17, freestyle; Kelly Mann, 8 - and - under, breaststroke; Judy Polach, 9-10, breaststroke; Debbie Griffin, 11-12, breaststroke; Mark Bueger, 13-14, backstroke; Terry Voss, 9-10, backstroke; Connie Hein, 11-12, backstroke; Jerome Ropac, 11-12, butterfly; and Sally Strickland, 15-17, butterfly.

Divers from the local squad winning first place awards were Scott Mullen and Nancy Byington, 12 years and under; and Dave Lindsay, 13-14 age group.

Packers Acquire Gary Lane, Former - Mizou Quarterback

Gary Lane, former University of Missouri and Wood River High School quarterback, has been obtained by the Green Bay Packers in a deal announced Monday by Packers coach Dan Devine.

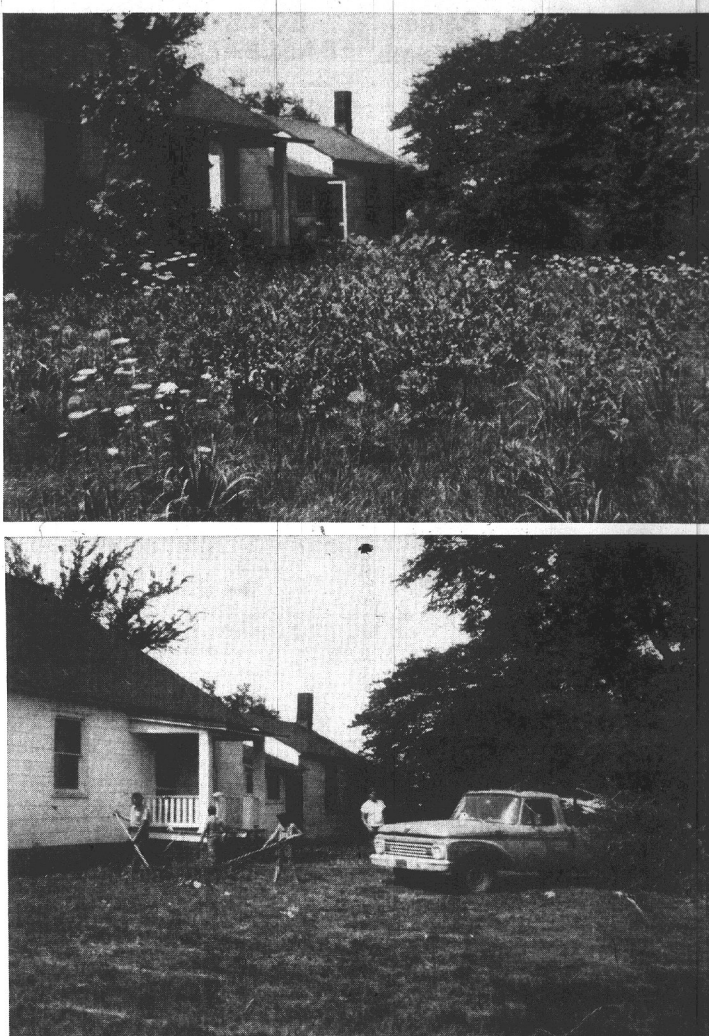

Lane, who starred three years for Devine at Missouri University, was drafted in 1966 by the Cleveland Browns and played with the National Football League team in 1966 and 1967 seasons. He was with the New York Giants in 1968 and the Los Angeles Rams in 1969, but failed to gain a regular berth on either squad.

Last season, Lane played with the Saskatchewan Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League. His acquisition by the Packers presumably was negotiated to provide backup insurance at the quarterback position.

Bart Starr, 37, the Packers regular quarterback, underwent surgery this week on a sore throwing arm. The only other experienced signal-caller on the team is Zeke Bratkowski, 39, who is attempting a comeback after two years as a Packers assistant.

Since entering the NFL, Lane has had few opportunities to make the regular lineup as a quarterback. He frequently was used at halfback at Cleveland and New York.

Lane is married to the former Gay Mueller, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mueller, 1527 Lindell Blvd. The couple resides in St. Louis County.

State ASA Meet Opens Preliminary

Four teams representing the Granite City Park District are competing in the Illinois Amateur Softball Association Tournament which opened last night at Decatur.

They are Rozkycki Realty, winner of the Granite City regional tourney, Mercer's, Snelson Auto Body and the Granite City Merchants.

The state meet, a 12-inch slow pitch event, will continue through Aug. 2. Last year's champion team came from Champaign.

The winner of the state tourney will advance to the national meet Sept. 2-6 at Parma, Ohio.

10-Year-Old Stabbed In Fight Over Marble

A 10-year-old Venice boy is in satisfactory condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital after being stabbed with a knife in a fight with two other youths in the 600 block of Salvo St., at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Festus Brown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Audreine Henderson, 621 Salvo St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a one-inch laceration to his abdomen, which required surgery.

Police said he was involved in a fight with an 8-year-old boy and a 13-year-old boy over possession of one marble. Police said the older boy handed a knife to the 8-year-old who allegedly stabbed Brown. The youths are being questioned by juvenile authorities. Charges of unlawful possession of a weapon and disorderly conduct against the 15-year-old were dropped.

Burglar Enters Home
Mrs. Libby Bell, 13a St. Paul St., reported at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday that someone had entered her home through a front window during the night. Nothing was taken or disturbed.

Wants City Estimate
Sparks noted that it is highly unlikely that the federal and state governments would allot funds to both Granite City and the townships for separate treatment plants "that would set next to one another on the riverfront."

Partney agreed this is so and said he has no apprehension over the ability of both groups to reach a workable agreement.

City officials are confident the $15.3 million project can be financed on a 50% grant from the federal government and 30% grant from the state's pollution bond issue fund, leaving the total local share at 20% of the cost.

The townships are planning their respective sewer installations with federal and state cost sharing under recent laws passed.

Fair Weather Forecast For Friday Promenade

Fair weather is forecast for Friday evening when the second of four "Promenade Nights" in downtown Granite City is planned as the fore-runner to the community's Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Promenaders will assemble at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Granite City Trust Bank parking area on Edison Avenue for a "leisurely stroll through the streets of the business district."

A contingent of "Keystone Kops" again will be on duty, arresting citizens who fail to display a Jubilee participation button.

The officers will be taken to a "Kangaroo Court" and public jail set up in the 1300 block of Niedringhaus Avenue near Civic Park.

Despite inclement weather last Friday night which restricted the number of promenaders, the Jubilee court officials did a thriving business.

Many promenaders plan to wear old-time clothing. Whether dressed in costume or not, persons in the downtown area tomorrow evening are advised to display a Jubilee participation button to avoid arrest, an official advised.

Buttons may be purchased at Jubilee headquarters, 1930 Edison Ave.

Jubilee Officials Seek 'Old' Photos, Paintings

The Diamond Jubilee Committee is seeking "old" photographs, slides, paintings and similar reproductions which depict the history of Granite City.

Robert McCrary, pageant director, announced today.

Donated pictures and other items will be reproduced into slides and returned to the owners, the official said. The slides will be used as background in interest highlighting the Diamond Jubilee Pageant, to be presented during Jubilee Week, Aug. 22-28, in Wilson Park.

Hundreds of local residents portraying episodes in the community's 15-year history will be featured in the pageant, backed by the slide presentation, McCrary said. Donors are asked to bring photographs to the Jubilee headquarters, 1930 Edison Ave.

HUD is giving priorities to small parks in subdivisions and cited the "mini-parks" in Moro, Ill., as an example.

Tearor told the board that a dispute over the seating of David Huckle, as assistant superintendent, on the Madison County Board of Supervisors has been resolved. Huckle was to be seated at the last meeting, but the county board refused to accept his credentials which were signed by Kenneth Gleason, acting town clerk, during Tearor's vacation.

The board refused to accept Gleason's signature on the credentials and would not allow Huckle to be seated until papers signed by Tearor were received. Tearor said he has signed a new set of papers and they were sent this weekend by registered mail to the board, insuring Huckle would be seated at the next regular meeting.

Open Tractor Bids

Bids were opened on a new backhoe tractor for the township, and the bids were referred to a committee for study. Bids were: H. Edwards Equipment Co., $9,475; Mitchell Equipment Co., $9,600; and Banco Equipment Co., $9,978 without cab. The two higher bids included the price of a full cab. Plans for immediate construction of a sewer to serve State Park Place were halted temporarily pending Canteen Township's sale of bonds for its sewers. The supervisor explained there was no point in constructing sewers in the area until there was a system into which the water carried off could be dumped.

Plans call for the drainage of State Park Place into the proposed Canteen Township sewer system. Whitson said some planning would continue and commented, "by the time we're ready with our plans, I am sure Canteen will be ready."

Bell announced plans to close a bridge over Cahokia Canal in cooperation with the Collinsville Township highway commissioner, the end of this week or

Airport Authority Names Hearing Officer

Kenneth F. Kelly, a Granite City attorney, was named hearing officer for the proposed new airport environmental hearings held last month by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon.

Kelly is a member of the American Arbitration Association, and has served as an arbitrator for five years. Commenting on the hearings, set for Aug. 16, 17 and 23, Kelly said today he does not expect his job as hearing officer to be an easy one.

"I expect some fireworks, perhaps. If I owned property and they (the authority) were taking it, I would be somewhat emotional and I expect some to be up in arms about it," he commented. He will receive $250 per session.

The hearings open at 7 p.m. Aug. 16 at the Waterloo High School and will reconvene the following night at the Belle-Claire Exposition Building, Belleville.

The Aug. 23 session will open at 7 p.m. in the Southern Illinois University-East St. Louis Center in East St. Louis.

In other action, the authority approved the hiring of Communications Council, Inc., of St. Louis, at $1500 per month as a public relations firm for the authority. The firm is expected to launch a campaign to gain support for the airport in Illinois, in light of recent Missouri efforts to move the site into that state.

"Our primary concern is that partisan and irrational opposition based on political opportunism will cause delays and disputes which ultimately could result in no federal or air carrier support for a new primary airport in the St. Louis area," Robert B. Lamkin, chairman of the authority stated.

The supervisor explained that most of the fire extinguishers had been taken in a theft last year and had never been replaced. Citizen complaints of rough railroad crossings on the Illinois Central railroad track at several places near Horseshoe Lake were heard and Schoepke was instructed to write a letter to the railroad requesting that the crossings be improved. early next week. Bell explained that the bridge, owned by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, has been unsafe since 1964 and should have been closed earlier. Bell explained that neither commissioner has the authority to close the bridge, but both may legally close the roads leading to the bridge.

ing by the Redler conveyor method or charging by pipe line.

Installed In Germany

He commented the wet scrubber cars were ordered installed at all West German coke ovens by the government in 1967, the installation to be completed by the start of this year. Since that time, he added, the gravity car, which charges on a main of steam, has been found superior in containing dust and smoke emissions during charging.

Thomas Sullivan, attorney for the steel company, asked Dr. Eisenhut to examine plans for a new gravity car for the Granite City Steel Co. coke ovens and the witness commented, "The car that is being offered here is the most modern car in the world."

He said the effectiveness of pollution control equipment on the car is estimated at 96 to 98% effective.

Eisenhut then described the car being considered by the company as having automatic oven lid lifters and an automatic pipe lid opener, both of which will open and close the lids faster than a man, reducing the amount of pollution which escapes from the ovens during charging.

Better Working Conditions

He also said the proposed car has an all-right cabin which will keep escaping gases from the man working the car, providing better working conditions for employees on top of the ovens.

The cost of the car is about $50,000 German marks or about $158,000, and, if approved, will be constructed by the Hopper Co. in West Germany.

The witness testified he has met with Donald F. Cairns, vice-president of the steel company three times since 1968 to discuss ways of reducing pollution from coke ovens, twice in West Germany and the third time in May in the United States.

Dr. Eisenhut continued testimony this morning on means of charging coke ovens and is expected to remain on the stand through Friday before returning to West Germany.

County Has 60 Days to Apply For Jail Grant

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—Application forms for counties seeking to share a half million dollar grant to upgrade their jail facilities have been mailed to 41 downstate counties where present jail facilities have been found inadequate or inhumane.

Anthony S. Kuharich, chief of the bureau of detention facilities and jail standards, in the Illinois Department of Correction, said the applications and guidelines have gone out, and counties will have about 60 days to file applications for grants which will range up to a maximum of $25,000.

The funds may be used for hiring additional personnel, or for upgrading physical aspects of the jails.

The $500,000 grant was awarded to the corrections department by the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

18 Jails Unfit

A recent survey of all county jails in the state conducted by the bureau, showed that 18 were "unfit for human habitation", and 23 more were rated "below minimal standards", Kuharich said.

A major area of complaint was in lack of adequate supervision, with many jails having no jailer on duty during the night. The department now requires that whenever prisoners are in a jail, there must be someone "awake and alert" on duty at all times, Kuharich said.

Counties using grant money to hire additional personnel may pay up to 90% of the cost with grant funds, with the county providing the remaining 10%. When grant funds are used to pay for physical and equipment changes, the county is to provide 25% of the total while the remaining 75% can be made up of grant money.

Upgrade Services

When a county agrees to accept grant money to upgrade facilities or services, Kuharich said, it must also agree to continue the program after the grant expires.

For instance, Kuharich said, if a county does not presently have a jailer on duty at night, and it will cost $5,000 a year to hire one, the county can use grant money to pay 80% of his salary and the county pays the other 10%.

However, next year they must include the full $5,000 in their own budgets; they must continue to hire a night shift jailer and pay for it themselves. The grant just lets them get started sooner on some things that have to be done, he said.

All grant applications will be evaluated individually after they're returned, and then a final decision will be made on how much each applicant will receive, Kuharich said.

First consideration will be given to those counties where the jail was ruled "unfit for human habitation," he said, though it is expected that only temporary and limited improvements will be made, since most of these jails will probably be replaced in the next few years.

A number of counties, he said, are currently considering construction of a regional facility, where one county constructing a new jail may agree to let adjoining counties house their prisoners in the jail as well, usually on a per diem basis.

It would certainly be great if every one in our trade area was just plain forced to read our ads, but it ain't so—so we must of necessity make our copy interesting as possible, advertising timely items, keeping abreast or slightly ahead of the markets. Timing is the key! Advertising food that is in current demand, not too far ahead. I believe it was Al Smith, governor of New York who said one could get so far ahead of the parade that he could not hear the music. Nor can we permit ourselves to be late—so we try to give you prices each week on up-to-date and in demand foods. We think that you can save your family many dollars in 1971 by reading our advertising each week and clipping our money saving coupons.

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana:

My husband I will soon celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary. We were married quite young so we're still well enough to enjoy this wonderful event. In fact, our children are planning quite a celebration for us.

During our marriage I've been very happy and I couldn't have asked for a better husband, father and family provider.

However, many many years ago my husband was involved in a triangle among a set of our friends. Since then this couple in the triangle got a divorce and both of them have remarried. I don't think telling you the whole situation is important; besides, it's too long a story. And neither my husband nor I saw much of this couple after they separated.

When this trouble first started, my husband claimed he had nothing to do with this couple's problems. He always maintained that one of the other couples in the set started the gossip about him to cover up the real truth.

For years I've tried to believe my husband and I've certainly never had any reason to believe he was involved in any way in this incident, or any other for that matter. In fact, we've never mentioned it again since my husband told me he wasn't guilty.

However, I'm afraid I've let it haunt me. Should I ask my husband about it?

band about it again? Surely after all these years he'll tell me the truth.

Dear Nana:

If you believe your husband told you the truth the first time, and I'm sure he must have from what you've told me about him during the later years, why stir up an old wound? And will you be any more certain of the truth now than you were then?

I'm sure your husband would have shown signs of being unfaithful again during your marriage if he weren't innocent the first time.

I suggest you let sleeping dogs lie and enjoy your 50th wedding anniversary. There aren't many couples nowadays who achieve such a wonderful feat.

Dear Nana:

Even though I'm a senior citizen and then some, I've been plagued with a problem that doesn't seem to have a solution. Nevertheless, I just happened to think you might have the answer, having dealt with the elderly for so many years.

I've always had freckles and I can't seem to get rid of them. I've tried every freckle cream that's ever been on the market but none of them work. Everyone has always told me not to worry, they'd fade and go away as you get older. That's what you think. I still have as many freckles as I did when I was a child.

Do you know of a freckle cream that's guaranteed to get rid of these horrible spots?

Dear Nana:

I'd really like to have him

the same problem and I haven't been able to solve it for myself.

Dear Nana:

Although I'm very dark complexioned my maternal grandmother was of Scotch-Irish descent with fine red hair and freckles.

The only solution I can offer for your problem is to not let your vanity get the best of you and learn to live with your freckles.

Besides, most people think they're cute on someone else.

Dear Nana:

It's time for me to give up my own home and go into a home for the aged. I know it's for the best and I'm not fighting my children on this issue. In fact, they found a lovely one for me that's close to them and I'm quite resigned to the fact that I shouldn't be alone anymore.

But I do have a problem that's of great concern to me. I have a dog that's been the joy of my life for many years. And to have to give him up will break my heart.

The owners of the rest home where I'm moving have been just wonderful about this and said I could bring my dog if I wanted to. But they also said they doubted that it would work as there are some of the other patients who don't like animals.

As I'm sure you've had patients move into your rest home who were faced with this same problem I'm hoping you can tell me how others handled this situation.

Should I take my pet with me to the rest home, have him put to sleep or give him to someone else?

Dear Nana--Why Rake up Past on 50th Anniversary? Let Sleeping Dogs Lie with me but I couldn't stand anyone being mean to him.

Beloved Pets

Although I'm sure you'll solve your own problem according to what is best for all concerned, I'm going to tell you a sad story about our dog who had been with us in our rest home for the last six years.

This may help you decide what you think you should do with your pet.

Our dog was 7 years old and spoiled rotten by our guests. We thought everything was fine, then the dog got mean and bit one of our guests.

Come to find out someone had been beating him with a cane so it was no wonder the dog became mean.

Naturally this broke our hearts as the dog was like one of the family. But, of course, we couldn't continue to keep him here in the rest home. It really wouldn't have been fair to the dog.

I know I'll be censured by all animals in the following suggestions I have for you. But, my final decision is yours alone.

They say a dog will give himself to death for a previous owner if you give him to someone else. So the only other alternative is to have him put to sleep.

However, in our case I'm afraid that neither my husband nor I could bring ourselves to put such a drastic measure. So we took our dog to our veterinarian and asked him to find a good home for the dog.

Later the vet assured us that our dog had a marvelous home with an elderly couple who had just lost their dog. Neither my husband nor I have seen the dog nor do we know where he is. Am I sure it would turn out apart if we did by chance see him.

But I did sneak some of our dog's favorite toys to the veterinarian and asked him to see that the dog got them.

I realize that this won't be much consolation to you but I'm sure you have the deepest sympathy of all animal lovers.

Questions on problems of the elderly may be sent to Copley News Service, P. O. Box 190, San Diego, Calif. 92112.

Manuel-Barr Nuptials

Performed in Madison

Miss Pamela Barr, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion T. Barr, 18 Morland Drive, was married July 24 to Armand Manuel at the First Baptist Church in Madison. The bridegroom is stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C.

The Rev. Paul Davis performed the evening ceremony. Miss Phyllis Martin, the bride's maid, presided at the organ and accompanied the vocalist, Jean Hargrave, in the songs "Hand in Hand We'll Walk Together," the Lord's Prayer, and the theme from "Love Story".

A gown of white tulle with a transparent yoke, full sleeves and a removable Watteau train. A shoulder-length veil was held in place with a forward headpiece of peau de sole, re-embroidered lace and pearls. The bride, given in marriage by her father, carried a nosegay of daisies, miniature carnations and white roses.

Miss Joy Barr and Miss Kimberly Barr, both sisters of the bride, served as maid of honor and bridesmaid. They were identical apricot gowns with Venice lace trim, fashioned on Empire lines with back sweeps and bishop sleeves. Hosiery matched the gowns and they carried yellow daisies tied with moss green ribbon.

Two little flower girls, Michele Martin and Jennifer Gumer, cousins of the bride, wore long white tulle dresses with Empire waists and short puffed sleeves. White bows were in their hair and they carried baskets of rose petals.

The bridegroom, a son of Joseph A. Manuel of Beaumont,

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS HALL. Their wedding took place July 24 at the Pontoon Baptist Church. The bride is the former Brenda Picker.

Hall-Picker Wedding at Pontoon Baptist Church

The wedding of Miss Brenda Picker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie W. Picker, 2148 Orrville Ave., and Dennis Hall, whose parents are Walter Hall, 4118 Stearns Ave., and Mrs. Dora Hoover, of Downie, took place July 24 at the Pontoon Baptist Church.

The evening ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Gus Falter.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle featuring a natural waistline, a high neck and long sleeves. The bodice was embroidered with pearls and sequins and the bouffant skirt was formed of tiers of lace. A semi-profile of flowers and pearls secured the bride's shoulder-length veil of English illusion and she carried an oval cascade of white roses.

A program of wedding music was provided by the church organist, David Long. The selections were the "Love Theme" from Romeo and Juliet; "Love Story" and "We've Only Just Begun".

Marvina Lloyd was honor attendant, and bridesmaids included the bride's sister, Miss Benita Picker, and Chris Keel. They wore floor-length gowns of aqua chiffon over tulle with Empire bodices and full gathered skirts.

The brides were accented with boleros of lime green Venice lace with high necks and long sheer sleeves of white chiffon. Profiles of aqua leaves secured modesty veils and they carried colonial bouquets of white and yellow carnations.

A little flower girl, Andre Goldbach, the bride's cousin, dressed like the older attendants, held a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

Scott Pasley, the bridegroom's cousin, carried the rings. Mr. Hall was attended by Bernard Picker, the bride's brother, as best man, and Robert Whitehead, a cousin, Bobby Keel, Jim Taylor and Mike Scarborough, the bridegroom's cousins, groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother chose an aqua knit dress, while the bridegroom's mother appeared in navy blue. Both wore white accessories and cymbidium orchid corsages.

The wedding reception was held at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall in Pontoon Beach, with Janet Kline in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of the Granite City High School. Mr. Hall attended Wentworth Military Academy. He is now employed by the C.N.W. Railroad.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's father and Mrs. Hall, at their home. The newlyweds will reside in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD W. MANUEL. They were married July 24 at the First Baptist Church in Madison.

Seek September Term Ruling on Bond Issue

By RAY SERATI
Copy News Service

Springfield—Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and his staff are hopeful that the Illinois Supreme Court will give a ruling during the September term on the proposed $900 million transportation bond issue, which includes $200 million for helping financially-struggling mass transportation districts, including the Chicago Transit Authority, and $100 million to help in upgrading Illinois airports.

The first session of the 77th General Assembly approved the massive bond issue, which includes $200 million for helping financially-struggling mass transportation districts, including the Chicago Transit Authority, and $100 million to help in upgrading Illinois airports.

Special attorneys representing the Ogilvie administration are hopeful they can present their case to the Supreme Court in August. This would give the Justices plenty of time to decide the matter and announce their decision during September.

Some informal requests have been received by Ogilvie's Office of Mass Transportation for funds from the $200 million segment. Among them making the informal request was the financially-troubled CTA. The Office is currently making up guidelines on how requests for funds will be made.

Meanwhile, the Division of Highways, which eventually will be incorporated into the new Transportation Department, is still working on the freeway system, which eventually is to link nearly every section of the state.

The court test would be the first one under the 1970 constitution. The legislation was passed by a three-fifths vote in the legislature. This was done so as to meet the requirements of the 1970 constitution.

Under the terms of the new constitution, a three-fifths vote of the legislature is required to incur state indebtedness. Actually, when the legislation was passed, the 1970 constitution was still in effect.

Family Camp Planned For Labor Day Holiday

The YMCA will present "Family Camp '71" on Labor Day weekend, Sept. 4-6, at Camp Piasa in Pere Marquette State Park.

Accommodations are available for 30 families. Activities will include swimming, hiking, mass games, nature study, archery, campfire programs, Sunday devotions and food.

Registrations are being accepted at the front desk at the "Y." Fees include two nights lodging and six meals. Fees are $9 for adults and 13 and older, $7 for 6-12, $4 for 2-5 years and free for children under 2.

Director of the camp will be Kent D. Dunn, membership and physical education director at the "Y."

Madison Rotary Hears 'No-Fault' Details

Rotarians Harry A. Thebeau, Frank Fijan and Jerry Maers discussed the new "No-Fault" law concerning auto insurance during the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison Rotary Club. The meeting was held at the Madison Recreation Center, Madison.

Thebeau pointed out that the new law will apply only to bodily injury coverage and motorists will be required to add to their insurance a $2,000 medical payment, income continuation and a $12 day coverage for home help if needed.

Drivers still will be faced with the problem of the uninsured motorist, the speakers said.

Soft Drinks Taken

Craig Hall, Belleville, a soft drink distributor, told police that two cases of soft drinks were stolen from his vehicle while he was delivering in the Terminal Railroad yards in Venice Monday.

Travelers to Moscow in for Surprise; Kremlin is Architectural Monument

By BILL HILL
Copy News Service

MOSCOW—Because of its reputation, visitors to Moscow invariably expect the Kremlin to be a grim, gray fortress inaccessible to all but future men in overcoats.

Far from being bleak, the Kremlin is a beautiful architectural monument—a shining, gleaming, museum, park theater, treasury and church—all rolled into one.

From a distance it looms as a fairyland of domes and crosses; many of them shimmering with rubies mounted in gold and sporting fresh coats of gold paint.

High on the list of every visitor to Russia is a trek through the Kremlin—seat of the Soviet government and a vast storehouse of Russian treasures.

Until the death of Joseph Stalin, the Kremlin's streets and buildings were off limits to the public, including Russians. Today most of the 65 acres inside the walls of this city within a city host Western ladies in mini-skirts and maxi-coats and felt-booted peasants in padded jackets. They come to wander among the tombs of czars and to gaze at the cathedrals and steep spires topped off with red stars.

Visitors Fascinated

International visitors are fascinated by the newly awakening Soviet tourist industry and the cordial welcome by English-speaking Russian guides who delight in sharing the old world with the new.

Two of the Kremlin's biggest tourist attractions are its large, best bell in the world—that has never rung—and the biggest-bell cannon—that has never been fired.

The cannon, an 890mm, was cast in 1586 for use as the Kremlin's first line of defense.

The bell, weighing 200 tons, rests on a pedestal nearby. The tension of the bell, broken off when workers heaved it out of the casting pit lies nearby.

Secret police keep pointing Kremlin visitors in the line of authorized travel—away from office buildings which still are closed to the public.

Next to the Kremlin is Red Square, another major attraction to tourists. In a dignified tomb of red granite, well lighted and guarded, lies the body of Vladimir I. Lenin. International tour groups are allowed to join the lines of Russians that move steadily past the bier of the most famous of all Soviet leaders.

Guards scan the lines of visitors with a constant reminder to keep their hands out of their pockets. No cameras are allowed near the bier of the founder of the Soviet state.

Takes 10 seconds. The eerie walk past the bier lasts about ten seconds and less than 2,000 visitors can be accommodated in a single day.

It's a solemn procession that moves along the moldy, dungeon-like tomb. Visitors are warned against any display of disrespect for the reposing body bathed in yellowish rays of light.

Travel barometers point to a record year for American tourists to visit Russia and Siberia. Many are expected to bypass Moscow in favor of Leningrad, often described as one of the world's most beautiful cities. It was built in the 18th Century and is interlaced with canals reminiscent of Amsterdam. Peter the Great called Leningrad, St. Petersburg—"window on the west."

Other Soviet Union visitors will go to Sochi, Russia's Black Sea resort which served as the " Riviera for the czars " and is a playground for thousands of Russians.

Khabarovsk, the Siberian metropolis on the Amur River, will lure many Westerners, as will Irkutsk, the hub of Siberia, on the Angara River.

Much of this year's anticipated uprising in travel to Russia and Siberia will be attributed to an exclusive agreement worked out between Alaska Airlines and Soviet agencies last year. The U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board has given the program its stamp of approval.

May Lessen Tension Both countries believe the program will further aid understanding between the two nationalities and lessen the tension between the two countries.

The airline will make 12 scheduled trips—originating in Anchorage, Alaska. The first is set for June 12, the last, Sept. 4.

Six flights will go to Leningrad and six to Khabarovsk. Flights to other points in Russia and Siberia will be made as needed.

Held in Shooting

Charlie Lee Walton, 49, of East St. Louis, was arrested by Venice police in the 300 block of Garner Road at 2 a.m. today in connection with a shooting in East St. Louis yesterday. Walton was released to East St. Louis officers a short time after his arrest and a .38-caliber pistol allegedly found in his possession was impounded as evidence.

Group for Retarded Praises State Budget

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie has been lauded by the Illinois Association for the Mentally Retarded for his approval of the 1972 budget of the Department of Mental Health.

The governor left the budget virtually intact as passed by the Illinois General Assembly. The final figure was $332 million—a $50 million increase over the present year.

John P. Greene, president of the IAMR, issued a statement praising the Governor for his action: "Although under tremendous economic pressure to balance the state budget by cutting back on amounts approved by the legislature, Governor Ogilvie has by his action demonstrated his sensitivity to the unmet needs of Illinois' 330,000 retarded children and adults.

"Once ranking a low 47th among the states on services for the mentally retarded, Illinois is rapidly becoming a leader in programs for its retarded citizens," said Greene.

21% Fund Boost
The new budget contains a

21% increase in funding for retarded services both for state institutions and for a greatly expanded grant program to private day care centers and vocational training workshops.

In addition, a new thrust to construct seven modern 400-bed institutions for the retarded in Northeast Illinois is under way. "There still remain several crucial non-money bills that we hope the governor will approve, but we are confident that he will continue to have his support of them," said Greene. "It won't be long before the horrors of the back wards of our old institutions will be gone forever."

The IAMR is the state-wide private organization working to improve care and services for retarded of all ages and degrees of handicap.

Lawn Mower Stolen

Harry Bell, 2326 Edwards St., reported at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday that his lawn mower with a 3 1/2 h.p. motor was stolen from its back porch after Sunday evening. It was valued at $34.

Struck with Glass

Allen Jefferson, 22, of East St. Louis, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a three and one-half inch laceration to his upper right arm after he allegedly was struck with a glass object in the 300 block of Weaver Street in Venice at 2:15 a.m. yesterday. The injury required 25 sutures. He was released following treatment.

MISSPENT LIFE

Many a man saves his pennies and amasses a fortune he doesn't need, only to leave it to relatives who don't deserve it.

HAT SWITCH DUE. Two dubious connoisseurs of Jubilee finery are about to trade chapeaux as Charles Meyer, at left, finds his ears covered and Ed Dotzauer's hat obviously is too small. The pair was selecting appropriate clothing for the city's 75th anniversary celebration at the Diamond Jubilee Store, 1930 Edison Ave. Both are volunteer salesmen at the Jubilee center and are willing to share their expertise with customers.

New Levee Trustee Ready To 'Pull Out' of Board

Walter D. Greathouse of Granite City, one of two Madison county members of a newly elected East Side Levee and Sanitary District Board of Trustees, said yesterday that he is ready to "pull out" of the board "but the way I see things now, what is there to resign from."

Greathouse, along with Von Dee Cruse of Granite City, was elected June 22 as a member of the five-man levee board intended to replace the present levee trustees because of their conviction on charges of misconduct in office. Three new trustees also were elected in the St. Clair County portion of the district.

The "new" board was unable to take office after the present board successfully petitioned for an injunction in circuit court at Belleville, preventing a takeover by the new trustees pending an appeal of the conviction. "I am getting all kinds of criticism from people who really don't understand the situation," Greathouse told the Press-Record. "Everytime something comes out in the papers criticizing the old levee board, people think I am involved and I get the blame for it."

Received Many Calls
Greathouse said he has received numerous calls from judges of the two special elections in which he was nominated May 4 and elected June 22, asking when they are going to get paid for serving in the election.

"I don't have anything to do with that," Greathouse said, but I get more calls about that than I do in the operation of my business. Greathouse is sales manager for a wholesale liquor firm.

Greathouse said that no one is making any effort to get the old board members out of office. "As I see it, this situation can carry on into next year when a regular election of levee board members is due. Apparently our election (the new board) has been a waste of $200,000 and caused a lot of legal mess," Greathouse said.

He criticized Appellate Judge Edward C. Eberspacher who granted the original stay order that kept the present levee board members in office.

"He (Eberspacher) said the conviction of the levee board members is not very serious. He acts as if their conviction was the same as getting a traffic ticket. If that's the way he believes, then that must be the way it is."

Gateway Council Backs Transit Bond Vote

A resolution calling upon the Missouri State Highway Commission to include a "significant portion" of bond funds for a rapid mass transit system in a proposed Missouri state highway bond issue was adopted yesterday by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council at St. Louis.

The resolution pointed out that the proposed $1.4 billion transit system will require help from Missouri and Illinois. The measure was sponsored by St. Louis Mayor A. J. C. Cervantes, St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos and East St. Louis Mayor James E. Williams.

The Missouri highway commission has proposed a $75 million bond issue for highway improvements and is resisting a move by St. Louis and Kansas officials to include a mass transit bond fund in the same referendum. Roos has suggested a bond issue of $225 million be included in the referendum proposal.

While backing from a driveway, an auto driven by George Roethemeyer, 2516 Lincoln Ave., struck the left front of another owned by Salvador Ochoa, 3197 Wayne Ave., parked in front of his home at 8:25 p.m. Wednesday.

Family Out of Town, Burglars Ransack Home

Burglars heavily vandalized and ransacked the home of Don Gilsinger, 2833 Forrest Ave., while the family was out of town. It was reported at 5:22 p.m. Wednesday. The rear door was found open and the carport door was unlocked.

Jars of green beans were poured on the living room floor along with other items taken from the refrigerator. A piano top was removed. All drawers were pulled out and some emptied. Air foam stuffing from a toy animal was scattered. Clothes were strewn about. The timer on the stove was still on. It was unknown if anything was taken.

Charged with Theft

John S. Corbitt, 19, of 1636 E. 23rd St., was released on $25 bond Wednesday on a charge of the under $5. Corbitt was arrested after allegedly taking a case of beer from Kacera Distributing Co., 14th Street and Grand Avenue, Madison, at 3:45 p.m. yesterday. Another youth with him eluded arrest. The case of beer was dropped and broken during the arrest and Corbitt paid $5 restitution to the company, police said.

Legion Post Closed

The executive board of the Venice American Legion Post owned by Salvador Ochoa, 3197 Wayne Ave., ordered the post closed temporarily yesterday. No reason for the closing was given.

How to Attract 4,000 People—Display Currency Totaling Billions of Dollars

BILLION DOLLARS in
U. S. Treasury notes is viewed in the top picture by Mrs. Frank Toth (left) and her daughter, Mrs.
Harry Fechte. Also in the photo are two $100 million
U. S. certificates of indebitedness.

In the next scene, also taken during a July visit to the Wilson Park ice rink-recreation center by Dan Kennedy, head of production control of the Treasury
Department's Bureau of Engraving and Printing,
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baumeyer.

Baumeyer is president and his wife is treasurer of the Land of Lincoln Coin Club. She is holding a sheet of $100,000 gold certificates.
Kennedy also is shown at
visitors to the park inspected U. S. Treasury displays and asked questions about the printing of currency and postage stamps. Four thousand saw the exhibit
during its two days here.

The mid-summer visit by Kennedy was considered an unusual honor for Granite City and he commented favorably on the interest,
knowledge and friendliness of local residents. Despite the friendliness, there were
— as might be expected —
elaborate security precautures.

Parked Auto Struck

Louis Pokres of St. Louis reported that while his auto was parked Monday at a meter at 1248 Niedringhaus Ave., it was struck in the front by another vehicle pulling into or away from the curb.

Chief Veizer Elected To State Post at Meet

Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer was elected second vice-president of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police at its annual conference held this week at Arlington Heights. He served as third vice-president last year.

Others elected were John Brachler of Lansing, president; Charles Erickson of Niles, first vice-president;
George Graves of Western Springs, third vice-president;
and Joel Kagin of Woodridge, sergeant-at-arms.

Auto Strikes Caboose Of Moving Train

The northbound auto of Jane
A. Modrusic, 1200 rear Iowa St.,
Madison, collided with the caboose of a freight train at the crossing in the 1300 block of Madison Avenue, Madison, at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday. She told police she did not see the flashing lights or the westbound train until it was too late to avoid striking the caboose.

M.O. Winfield, 1845 Bremen Ave., the train's conductor, was riding in the caboose at the time. The right front of the auto was damaged.

Fire Razes House on Chouteau Slough Rd.

Fires of undetermined origin destroyed a frame house on Chouteau Slough Road Tuesday night. The house was occupied by James Stanley, Box 1319a,
Rural Route One.

Fire Chief Lee Paul of the Mitchell Volunteer fire department estimated damage to the building at $3,500 and damage to contents at $500.

The Mitchell fire department received its alarm at 7 p.m.
and a short time later called the Long Lake fire department to assist. Firemen were at the scene until 10:30 p.m.

Paul said firemen were hindered in fighting the blaze because of several acetylene and oxygen tanks which exploded in the house during the fire.

Press-
Record

Granite City Newspaper Historical Editions in 1908, 1924-and 1971

Names make news today, and they have throughout the history of this community.

In an effort to call lasting attention to those appearing in the news as a result of civic endeavors, newspapers from time to time present special editions recording meritorious service.

Sun an edition will be a part of the Monday, Aug. 16, issue of the Press-Record. Most of the research, writing, editing and mechanical tasks have been performed. It's been a mighty busy July for us.

The quality and thoroughness of our Granite City Diamond Jubilee historical issue can best be judged by those less directly involved. But we are enthused about the way it is turning out—and we believe many will be pleased with the Press-Record, Aug. 16 report, in words and pictures, on the city's first 75 years.

Among the numerous sources of information, we reviewed the 68 years of microfilm files, which contain every page of every issue of this newspaper since 1903. Historical editions received special attention.

Those featured prominently in the news here during the first decade of the 20th Century included Harry Anderson, George E. Champion, C. C. Bristow, Oliver M. Brammell and C. C. Hughes.

In 1900, formation of the Granite City Commercial Club was a major event.

William Champion was president, Thomas Stallings, vice-president and Charles Stielzel, Frank Dahms, Robert Roth and Dr. F. E. Truller, charter members. Scene of the first meeting was the Fleischman-McNary hall, 19th and D Streets.

A 1908 publication detailing advantages for manufacturers and home buyers listed such industries as: Ernest Hatcher, F. H. Strackelmann, W. R. Woodson, William Moellenbrock.

Thomas F. Leyland, Charles A. Bartlett, C. D. McCasland, John W. McNamery, C. H. Way.

R. A. and A. H. Murphy, J. H. Robinson and the Niedringhauses—F. G., William F., Thomas K., George W., Albert W., Dr. R. E., Oliver B. and Lee I. Niedringhaus.

The list continued with Philip Lauff Sr. and Jr., R. D. Luster, Harry Bricker, Dr. August Lohmann, Peter Mueller, Charles R. Young, George W. Hommer, Charles Forcade.

Fred Wagner, G. W. Hess, William E. Briggs, George T. Chappes, Joseph W. W. Sefton, Edward Martin, George Loewenguth, C. M. Cline, Otto Wiegert.

E. R. Voorhees, Charles L. Draper, John P. Baker, L. Guy House, J. D. Bricker, W. Schlobohm, G. Farina, D. Tibbals, T. E. Gonterman, Edmund Hall and J. W. Brady.

Others well-known included Frank M. Cauger, H. B. Bischoff, W. S. Dunlap, Archer Boyd Jr., H. J. Koehnig, C. M. Childs, A. L. Von Gruenigen.

Walter Roney, Miss Kate Fisse, Miss Belle Krome, Miss Edith Hurstman and Miss McInerney.

Prominent Madisonians of the day, besides Vice President F. A. Garesche, included Henry Connole, John Malone, William McMahon, J. J. Lahey, C. W. Burton, W. J. Franklin, C. L. Gibbs, Carl A. Uffers, W. B. Turnbaugh.

Potential Bingo Problems Call for Extreme Care by State in Regulating the Activity

Bingo! Illinois organizations and churches which have lobbied for legalized bingo over a long period of years finally rang the bell this year. The House and Senate acted favorably and Governor Ogilvie signed the bill after being assured that it has sufficient safeguards against infiltration of the games by organized crime.

We hope for the best—that groups will aid their treasuries, that participants will find relaxation and good fortune, and that the state will benefit (and perhaps ease the tax load).

Our hopes do not agree totally with our expectations. We were not among the advocates—except to the extent that we think almost any law should be either enforced or repealed.

The bingo ban has been ignored in this and other areas for many years, although the games have varied considerably from time to time in the degree of openness and in the size of the crowds.

We remember many years ago when some government officials used bingo for improper leverage with the public. "Don't protest about us letting the (gang muscle) big games (bookshops, roulette, blackjack) run, or we'll let them down on your little games (bingo)," they would say or imply. This situation led to corruption of government and law enforcement processes in some communities. Perhaps with bingo legalized, an official considering such an "all or nothing at all" policy will have less ground to rationalize winking at the law.

We urge the state to take extreme administrative care to prevent crime infiltration of bingo—and also to do all it can to assure full and accurate reporting and handling within organizations. A number of years ago, we recall, there were some 25 years of some posts and clubs about the secret or vague or loose ways their committees handled the "take" from illicit slot machines.

Ogilvie, Percy, Scott, Lewis Are Almost Sure to Be the GOP Slate

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield—Channels may be switched next year. Illinois Democrats may well provide political viewers with the feeding and the fighting. Republicans may be offering the sweetness and light.

For years it has been the way war would. Republicans usually become involved in a fierce primary fight for whatever office or offices that may be at stake—and the bitterness of the defeated carries over into the fall campaign to hamper the GOP cause.

On the Democratic side, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley picks the candidates in no-nonsense fashion, the rejected accepted their fate stolidly and the party moves smoothly into the November campaign, portraying to the voters an image of harmony and unity.

But there are clouds on the Democratic horizon as the big 1972 campaign year approaches. There are increasing signs that the Daley machine may be slipping and in any event, appears to face at least a moderate primary challenge in a hard-walking gubernatorial hopeful, Dan Walker. In-fighting among party regulars has been going on for some time and is likely to be bitter.

In contrast, the Republican 1972 picture is coming to look clear and easy. There appears little sign of a serious primary fight for any office.

Earlier Statehouse talk of a possible primary challenge to U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy or of a movement to "dump" Gov. Richard B.

sands of people—their hopes, activities and interests.

The Aug. 16 Press-Record will attempt to recall major happenings and also to recapture some of the flavor and spirit of past years—the changing times and attitudes over a 75-year period.

Names—and faces—will be a highlight along with discussions and photographs of 1886-1897 buildings, neighborhoods and news events.

State Bill for Cities to Issue Revenue Bonds to Build Complete Industrial Sites

A bill intended to open the way for communities to attract new plants by allowing municipalities to issue revenue bonds to prepare complete industrial sites was passed by the Illinois General Assembly and is awaiting signing.

The bill, S. 592, was amended to make it an industrial project financing Act. The definition of industrial project includes everything necessary for a new plant site—from the building itself to site preparation, utilities, access roads, railroad siding and other docking facilities.

Especially in view of the thousands of acres of ideal industrial sites in Madison County, municipalities in this area may find the new legislation worthy of study and action.

How About Granite City Support Installation?

From Granite City Engineer Depot and then Granite City Army Depot, the local military base has changed its name to Headquarters, Installation Support Activities, Army Aviation Systems Command, or HISA-AAVSCOM for short.

We like the verbal and official link with the Aviation Systems Command, and hope it continues and grows. But we wonder if the base might be better identified to the public and within the armed services if "Granite City" could be inserted somewhere into the name.

Don Old-Time Attire and Join Jubilee Fun

Time was when many men would grow beards to celebrate a festival like Granite City's Diamond Jubilee.

The current long-hair fad may have inhibited some who otherwise would have let their hair grow for the occasion, but the Jubilee spirit does seem to be catching on. Thousands of Granite Cityans have become involved in one or more of the 75th anniversary activities.

The 1896-1971 span of history represents a major milestone for Granite City, and we recommend active participation by all residents and visitors.

Whatever profits are generated will go to a good cause—a civic improvement yet to be selected. And a lot of enjoyment can be derived in the process.

No Job Security for Debt Officer

The "safest" possible job in the vast federal system has gone to H. J. Hingten, a Treasury Department career officer. His title? Commissioner of the Public Debt.

He would seem to be little chance that he ever will be without any work to do, debt being so pervasive and long-lasting.

He is to oversee the management of the national debt, which has been growing steadily for more than 25 years and now stands at $400 billion, eating up interest at a rate of $20 billion a year.

Other government bureaus may tremble before the winds of political change. But, unless we miss our guess, Mr. Hingten and his staff can look forward to soaring security, far above the storm.

It is also generally accepted that the Nixon strategists will "go" with Ogilvie for governor rather than encourage any effort to replace him with a more popular figure.

Not only do national party leaders reason that any ousting of Ogilvie movement would create so wide a division as to doom the party, but there are indications they feel his low point has been reached—and that "his recognized record as an outstanding governor" may make him a strong contender.

NOSTALGIA AND THE NATURAL

Motivational researchers—those people who figure out what makes us want things—are saying that a current trend in society involves both nostalgia and naturalness.

Well, it's hard to disagree. Certainly there is a revival in interest in days gone by. Productions such as "No, No, Nanette" and the Follies, which originally played Broadway in the twenties, are big hits on Broadway this time. And as for naturalness, even young people seem to have gone all out in that department. And, as always, adults have come back to the ways of the very people who brought back into style.

Racoon Coats? I don't expect to see many Stutz Bearcats. But it may be the racoon coat will come back. Come to think of it, a thing like the racoon coat might not go over after all because nostalgia and naturalness may at that point come in conflict. I have in mind the fact that the very people who promote naturalness in appearance also object to man killing animals just to get a coat or garment he hardly needs.

Whatever the trend toward so-called naturalness enters the field of nutrition, too. For instance, there is the increasing interest in organic foods. The question has been with us for a long time. But now with all the publicity that has been given to pesticides, particularly their overuse, the demand is increasing for foods raised without manufacture.

More important than spurious arguments over organic foods is the fact that there is malnutrition in our nation at all economic levels. How are you feeling your family? Reliable sources of nutrition information include food editors, dietitians, nutritionists, home economists, community health organizations and Dairy Councils.

State Agencies, Departments Are Adapting to Seven-Region System

by RAY SERATI

Springfield—Plans are moving ahead on the formation of seven regions in the state which would be served by "little statehouses." East St. Louis is being designated as headquarters for the Quad-City area.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and his staff have been planning the regions in an effort to bring state services closer to the residents of the state.

The regions have been assigned to all state agencies. Each region would be served by a central city or headquarters. At the headquarters would be located field offices of the various governmental agencies.

In an executive order calling for the formation of the regional setup, Ogilvie said, "it is extremely difficult to coordinate the activities of state departments and agencies without common regions."

In all, seven regions would be formed. The 26 northwestern counties would make up one region, while the nine northeastern metropolitan counties would make up another region.

Another region would be the 33 central Illinois counties—and the seven counties making up the southwestern section of the

Architects to Study County Building Needs

A $6,000 contract with a Wood River architectural firm to develop a master plan of county building needs was approved Monday by the Madison County Public Building Commission.

The firm of Hanner, Breitweiser & McLaughlin is expected to use a 1966 study by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission as a basis for its work, according to John Gitchoff, commission chairman.

SIMAPC earlier recommended replacement of the county jail and construction of a county administration building and a new courthouse.

During their Monday session commission members viewed several sites in the Edwardsville area in connection with a storage building for the county's voting machines.

Mrs. Jesse A. Dunn, 3223 Maryville Road, reported Monday that a spare tire valued at $28 was stolen from the trunk of her 1965 compact auto parked at her home. The left wing window was forced open and the trunk latch was released.

Foran Must Sell Self Downstate to Have Chance in Gubernatorial Bid

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield—Thomas A. Foran, 47, of Chicago, has a special problem in his bid for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Other top contenders have to sell themselves to Mayor Richard J. Daley. Foran has to sell himself to more than 2 million Downstate voters.

The former U. S. district attorney already is well-known in Chicago through his role as prosecutor in the famed Chicago Seven trial. He has launched a three-months series of meetings with press, radio and television people, Democratic county chairmen, other grass roots party workers, and individual citizens in an effort to make himself known to thousands of Illinoisans south of Chicago, most of whom have never heard of him.

It is believed at the Statehouse that Foran is doing this at the specific direction of Daley himself. There also is substantial opinion that the mayor would prefer to give the governor nomination to Foran but fears a Downstate backlash.

Simon Front-Runner

Gov. Paul Simon, rated as the current front-runner, and Auditor Michael J. Howlett, regarded as No. 2 and trying just as hard, both have strong Downstate followings. Statehouse Democrats, and more than a few Republicans privately, feel that either Simon or Howlett could beat Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. There is also a Capitol consensus that according to John Gitchoff, commission chairman.

It is obviously in the interest of Simon and Howlett to convince Daley that this is so. The fourth contender, and the only one officially announced, Dan Walker of Chicago, an avowed Daley foe and plans to run in the primary against the slate-makers' choice.

Simon and Howlett and Foran all seek the formal endorsement of the party leadership and each has virtually committed himself to support whoever is chosen. All three say they consider remote the possibility that Daley might throw the nomination open in 1972.

What Foran is trying to do is to attract enough favorable attention Downstate that he can go to Daley sometime after Labor Day and convince the mayor that he could expect to run strong enough here to hold down any Republican plurality that could offset the usual big Democratic margin in Cook county.

Political Unknown

It's a big job. Compared to Howlett and Simon, Foran is a political unknown. Most Downstate voters have only a vague recollection of the Chicago Seven trial which grew out of the 1968 Democratic convention troubles. It is possible, too, that many may confuse Foran with Walker, who actually defended the accused radicals. Walker is now walking northward up the state and attracting considerable publicity and sympathy. Whether he is also attracting votes is debatable.

Foran claims he has some base of recognition Downstate from having campaigned in the area for former U. S. Sen. Paul H. Douglas and present Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson. But cynics dismiss this claim. They say people remember only the candidate and have no recollection of who might have been with him.

Foran does have a few things going for him. He looks about 10 years younger than he is and comes across like an Ivy League John Garfield.

He has a unique, soft, personal charm which should go over well with rural-oriented Downstate voters. This could be a big help because he faces the added handicap of being regarded by some as "Daley's boy" or "that guy from Chicago."

SIU-SW Students May Teach on Reservations

Opportunities are now available for Southern Illinois University students at Southwestern campus to do their student teaching on Indian reservations.

According to Gene Allsup, associate professor of education and assistant dean of International Services, the Pine Ridge Indian (Sioux) Reservation at Pine Ridge, S.D., and the Cherokee Reservation at Cherokee, N.C., will accept student teachers on both the elementary and secondary levels. The only exceptions are students majoring in a foreign language.

The primary reason for co-operating assignments for future teachers, Allsup said, "is to give SIU-SW student teachers inter-cultural experiences and a chance to become acquainted with another minority group in the United States."

A similar student teaching program was offered for the first time last year in Central America. Twelve SIU students have completed work in that part of the continent.

Prospective student teachers interested in being assigned to one of the two Indian reservations should contact Prof. Allsup by writing him in care of the International Services Division at SIU-SW or by telephoning him at (618) 982-2932.

National Citizenship Awards Cite Top 4-H'ers

"Young people today are deeply concerned about the welfare of America. While much has been written about the drug scene, campus riots and rebellious radicals, these reports do not truly portray what most of America's young people are attempting to say and do," says Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National 4-H Service Committee.

"The millions of youths participating in 4-H are typical of young Americans concerned about their fellow citizens and the land they live in," Mindrum added.

A major goal of every 4-H program, project or activity is to develop leadership talents and to work to achieve the broad objectives of character and effective citizenship.

The young people apply their energies to combat air and water pollution, work with the handicapped and other disadvantaged and in a multitude of areas for the benefit of their families, communities and their country. And Mindrum notes that prospective student teachers are provided in 4-H for being good citizens.

There are opportunities for special recognition in citizenship. Annually an outstanding 4-H boy and girl epitomizing the highest in citizenship achievement are honored nationally. The Cooperative Extension Service selects these winners of 5000 educational scholarships, expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago and a silver tray given in the name of the President of the United States.

The program was established in memory of Thomas E. Wilson who served as president of the National Committee from 1924 through 1958. A pioneer Chicago meat packing executive, Wilson was instrumental in helping to shape the lives of nearly two generations of young people and it is fitting that the special 4-H citizenship awards be presented in his name, Director Mindrum said.

Reduced Budget Cuts EU Fall Enrollment

A reduced operating budget for the current fiscal year has caused a cutback in Eastern Illinois University's planned fall enrollment, according to Dr. Glenn D. Williams, vice president for student affairs.

Permits to enroll or letters of acceptance previously issued to about 225 junior and senior college transfer applicants have had to be canceled, Williams said. Cancellation notices were sent by registered mail.

Williams said in the letter that the measure is "drastic" and one "we never thought it would be necessary to use."

The cancellations include all senior college transfer applicants who have not graduated from the schools they are attending, and junior college students who have not earned 90 quarter hours. Students need a minimum of 90 hours to have junior class status at Eastern.

Efforts to recruit a person for the new position will begin at once, he added.

FERRANTE & TEICHER, piano duo who will perform at the Mississippi River Festival at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Ferrante & Teicher to Perform at Festival

The two-piano team of Ferrante & Teicher will be the attraction at 8:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 2, at the Mississippi River Festival site on the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Ferrante & Teicher were one of many two-piano teams in the country until they recorded the popular theme song from the film "The Apartment" in 1960. Since then, they have been a box office attraction throughout the country.

The duo, together since the age of six, were brought together by circumstance after their parents discovered that both children possessed extraordinary musical talent. With the assistance of music counselors in their respective communities, the Ferrante's of New York City and the Teicher's of Wilkes Barre, Penn., entered their children in the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

Work for two piano teams was scarce, especially in the classical music area. The duo struggled for 12 years playing in almost every city in the United States.

Then came the recording of the theme music from the film "The Apartment" which rocketed the team to overnight success. Often referred to as the movie theme team, Ferrante's and Teicher's recording sold 750,000 records in the first three weeks on the market.

Since "The Apartment," the piano duo rarely play classical music, and have recorded such selections as "The Knack," "Cleopatra," "A Man and a Woman," "The Bible" and the popular rendition of "Exodus". Ferrante and Teicher are considered to be one of the top box office attractions in the country. They have appeared on numerous television and radio programs including Ed Sullivan, Dean Martin, Johnny Carson and the Bell Telephone Hour.

This will be their first appearance at the Mississippi River Festival since the inception of the two-state musical gala two years ago.

Wilderness Rock Billed For Friday's Festival

The soulful sounds of the Tina Turner will be preceded by the tunes and satire of a rising country rock group, Wilderness Road, at Friday evening's Mississippi River Festival. So the r'n'r Illinois University-Southwestern.

In announcing the addition to the festival's slate of Folk/Pop/Bluegrass, gospel, old rock and roll, hard rock and satire in an improvisational theater format.

Wilderness Road's first album is scheduled for release by Columbia Records in September. A recent issue of Billboard noted that Columbia vied with five other companies for initial rights to record the group.

Of the four-man Wilderness Road unit, Billboard reported: "They are funny and play down-right foot-stomping music. Their Jesus/Gospel... complete with neon crosses and background—as valid in its own way as anything by Tennessee Ernie Ford, Merle Haggard or Johnny Cash."

Rollings Stones, the popular rock music newspaper, recently referred to Wilderness Road "the hottest group in town."

Good Safety Attitudes Aim of 4-H Program

"Today's young people need to develop proper attitudes toward safe and efficient automobile operation and care," according to Donald E. Osburn, director of program services, National 4-H Service Committee. "And to do this important educational job we are fortunate to have the strong support of The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company and the Cooperative Extension Service," he added.

In reporting on the 4-H automotive program, Osburn noted that Firestone is providing more than $20,000 for leader training in the automotive program. And so far grants have been funded for 22 states.

These funds are provided in addition to recognition and incentive awards for individuals and educational materials. Training volunteer leaders—both adult and junior—is an effective way of reaching youth, claims the Cooperative Extension Service which has undertaken supervision of the project. And past experiences in numerous states prove the accuracy of the claim.

An automotive leader training pilot program started in Chattanooga, N.C., in 1970 drew over 6,000 youth participants. It operated under the label, GTO, "Greater Teen Opportunities."

III. Terminal Profit Shows Gain This Year

The Illinois Terminal Railroad Co. has recorded the best first half results in the history of the present corporation, according to E. B. Wilson, president.

For the first six months of 1971, a net profit of $948,000 was realized in comparison to a deficit of $38,000 for the same period a year ago. Operating revenues for the period rose from $5,921,000 to $6,398,000, while operating expenses declined from $4,445,000 to $4,376,000.

There was a net profit of $192,000 for the month of June, 1971, versus a deficit of $42,500 for the same month a year ago. Mr. Wilson indicated it was difficult to forecast second half earnings due to unsettled labor conditions currently prevailing within and without the industry. However, he anticipates that 1971 will show a substantial improvement over the results of any of the past five years.

Junior Colleges Facing Gloomy Future

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — A "gloomy" future looms for the big majority of Illinois Junior Colleges, as a result of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's recent slash in education funds, a Junior College

Dr. Fred L. Wellman, executive secretary of the board, said that presently 22 of the 36 locally controlled junior college districts are already at their maximum authorized tax levies, while three more are within one cent of their maximums and another seven have only one to five cents left by which to increase levies without a new referendum.

Only four of the 36 districts can raise their levies by more than five cents, without new voter approval, he said. Dr. Wellman added that those figures reflect the last fiscal year's budgets, and the picture may become more bleak when current budgets are received by the board.

Faced with decreased appropriations, he said, most of the schools will have to decide whether to reduce courses offered, limit enrollments, raise tuition or increase the demands on local taxpayers.

Don't Expect Increases
The board is not hopeful of getting increased levies approved by voters, since in recent elections, a sizable number of districts have turned down proposals to increase levies.

Which course to follow will be determined by the local boards, Dr. Wellman said. Where courses are cut, they probably will be those with the lowest enrollments, or which cost the most to operate.

"Unfortunately," he added, "the most expensive courses generally are shop and vocational trade courses."

Adding to the financial problem, he said, is a limitation that tuitions can only be raised to a figure one-third the cost of the student's education, and several districts are already quite close to the limit.

Some districts will try to ease their dollar pinch by securing additional federal funding, he said.

Despite the financial problems facing the existing districts, he said, the board has authorized a referendum to be held in Decatur early this fall, seeking voter approval of establishment of the Macdonald Junior College District.

Pontiac District Possible
There has been sizeable interest shown recently in setting up a possible district in Pontiac, in Livingston County as well, Dr. Wellman said, though local support appears just now to have waned on possible establishment of a district at Jacksonville.

The board is currently drawing up guidelines on whether certain courses now offered fall into the hobby, leisure or recreational category which was denied state funding in the bill signed by the governor.

"At Danville, for instance, there is a sewing course which trains women to work in nearby upholstery plants," Dr. Wellman said. "At some other school, a sewing course might be strictly for recreation or hobby use. We will have to study just how each course is set up, in order to certify it does not fall into the hobby or recreation class."

Among the schools already at maximum tax levels, he said, is Joliet Junior College, the oldest existing public junior college in the nation still in continuous operation. The school was established in 1901.

Two Men Grab $865 in Envelopes at Kroger's

Two men leaving the Kroger Store in the Nameoki Village shopping center reached over a glass partition of an office area and grabbed two green cloth money envelopes containing $865.31, it was reported at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

They left the store immediately and fled in an old turquoise auto. A store employee chased the car but lost sight of it at the end of the building. Witnesses said that the two had arrived at the store in an old white auto.

Power Firms to Study Conversion Of Coal into Gas

Permission to form the Coal Gasification Group to investigate the use of Illinois coal reserves for conversion into pipeline quality gas has been granted seven Illinois utilities, including Illinois Power Co. by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

In authorizing the agreement among the utilities, which serve 90% of Illinois' gas and electric customers, the ICC order observed that the state needs additional fuel supplies which meet air pollution control requirements. The development of economically feasible coal gasification projects should offer such a fuel source.

The Coal Gasification Group was proposed early this summer in response to an ICC request for utilities to investigate supplemental gas supplies. By working as a group, rather than independently, the group should be better equipped to meet the critical gas need situation.

R. A. Blakeney, IP vice-president and a member of the group's advisory board, said that converting coal to gas would increase the use of one of Illinois' most abundant natural resources.

Several projects are under way to determine end methods of converting coal, through a clean process, into pipeline quality gas which is extremely low in pollutants.

Members of the advisory group have predicted that Illinois customers might be receiving such gas in 8 to 10 years. Utilities which make up the non-profit group are IPC, Central Illinois Public Service Co., Central Illinois Light Co., Iowa Illinois Gas and Electric Co., Commonwealth Edison Co., Northern Illinois Gas Co. and the Peoples Gas System.

Budget Bureau Taking Long Look at Jr. College Costs

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—A unit of the state bureau of the budget is taking a long, close look at community college buildings, trying to get a clearer definition of what constitutes an "adequate" facility.

Currently, there is a limit of $30 a square foot on construction costs. When that figure was set, according to Dave Rinker, chief of the capital unit in the budget bureau, a school could "very easily" still include certain extra items for beautification and stay within the maximum.

Today, soaring building costs are eating up that edge, but the schools have a "tendency to continue building in the same vein," Rinker said.

The unit is seeking to work cooperatively with the Illinois Junior College Board and the state Board of Higher Education in establishing guidelines, Rinker said, and has recently hired Eric Jones specifically to oversee the college's capital expenditures.

Go On Their Own

A major problem, according to a spokesman in the bureau's education division, is that the local districts, using the 25% of the total cost they must provide, often go ahead on their own, hiring architects and drawing up plans before consulting the bureau.

"As a result, we find ourselves trying to apply standards retroactively," the spokesman said. When plans appear to be too far from the norm, the local authorities are sometimes asked to have their revised to eliminate such items as oversized doors which be custom made, instead of using stock doors which can be readily obtained at much lower costs.

Nearly all the junior colleges include a lake on the campus, the spokesman said, which adds greatly to the charm but may be a little difficult to justify in terms of enriching the curriculum.

The question, Rinker said, often boils down to whether a district should "design in features calling for unique fabrication or creating construction innovations considerably more expensive than the standard."

"The extra cost must come from the overall funds available, Rinker said, which means that when one school wants to add something that an older school "down the road" has, some other institution may have to delay or even abandon the project it needs, for lack of money.

The bureau could force compliance by refusing to release funds, but so far has not done so, Rinker said, preferring to work with the voluntary cooperation of the state boards and local district authorities involved.

"The big problem," Rinker said, "is that we get into it a little late in time."

B & K Bookkeeping, 2914 Nameoki Road, a local accounting and tax service firm, has installed a computer to be used in processing accounting and tax information. However, its computing abilities equal those of some of the larger computer systems in existence only a short time ago.

Digital Equipment Corporation is the manufacturer of the computer, a PDP-8e which is capable of processing data on site (that is at 2914 Nameoki Road) or from a remote location such as a client's office, a construction site or anywhere that electricity and telephone service is available. When processing is from a remote location, a 110V electrical circuit is necessary to operate an Input/Output device, and telephone lines are used to transmit data to and from the computer processor.

B & K provides bookkeeping, accounting, consulting and all types of tax services for the small-to-medium business firm as well as personal income tax service. The firm was operated as Louis H. Brusatti Income Tax & Bookkeeping Service by Mr. Brusatti from 1959 to 1969. When he asked Claude P. Kessler to assist him. At that time, a partnership was formed and the name changed to B & K Bookkeeping. In July 1970, Martha L. Weiss joined the partnership and in November the office at 2914 Nameoki Road was opened.

Cadet Michael Pitzer In Reserve Training

Cadet Michael J. Pitzer, 23, son of Mrs. Joseph B. Pitzer, 1705 Fifth St., Madison, is receiving six weeks practical training in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps advanced summer camp at Fort Riley, Kan.

Good Faith Bargaining. According to Pitzer, "Several of these situations could be resolved immediately if school boards were required by law to participate in good faith bargaining. Others, such as East Aurora, are the result of school boards attempting to destroy local associations of teachers to return to the antiquated district practices of the 30's."

The IEA intends to investigate as many as 100 impasse situations early in August in an attempt to aid in resolving local disputes or to aid teachers in determining further steps to achieve a contract.

Dr. Plott stressed that IEA's top priority in 1971 is the ending of public employee legislation which will guarantee public employees in the state the right to participate in good faith negotiation.

IEA is now contacting public employee groups to form a united lobbying front for the October legislative session.

Dr. Plott singled out Rockford, DeKalb, Elgin and the Calumet sector in the Chicago area, and Eldorado, Bloomington, Decatur and Streator downstate, as districts which are nearing a polarization that may threaten the opening of schools in September.

IEA Head Lashes At Legislature on Teacher Pacts

The leader of Illinois' largest organization of educators, the 60,000 member Illinois Education Association (IEA), lashed out at what he termed "an unresponsive legislature which has brought Illinois public school system to the brink of chaos."

Dr. Curtis Plott, the executive secretary of IEA, revealed that there are 176 school districts throughout the state which have not resolved negotiations for the 1971-72 school year.

According to Dr. Plott, a number of these impasses may result in teachers withholding services until contract disputes are resolved.

"The tragic factor," said Dr. Plott, "is that public employee bargaining legislation which could have prevented the impending crisis, was postponed until October."

Abdicated Responsibility

"Unlike the legislators in Pennsylvania and Hawaii who dealt boldly with the needs of public employees, the Illinois Legislature abdicated its responsibilities to the welfare of the state by evading the issue of collective bargaining."

"Now," continued Dr. Plott, "in the absence of an orderly mandated process for resolving disputes in school districts, teachers dealing with local school boards who are attempting to maintain the status quo, automatic practices of the past, have little recourse other than concerted drastic action."

Dr. Plott singled out Rockford, DeKalb, Elgin and the Calumet sector in the Chicago area, and Eldorado, Bloomington, Decatur and Streator downstate, as districts which are nearing a polarization that may threaten the opening of schools in September.

Good Faith Bargaining. According to Plott, "Several of these situations could be resolved immediately if school boards were required by law to participate in good faith bargaining. Others, such as East Aurora, are the result of school boards attempting to destroy local associations of teachers to return to the antiquated district practices of the 30's."

The IEA intends to investigate as many as 100 impasse situations early in August in an attempt to aid in resolving local disputes or to aid teachers in determining further steps to achieve a contract.

Missouri Proposes Special Taxing District To Build Airport There

Missouri officials are proposing the establishment of a special St. Louis area airport district to build a new major St. Louis Metropolitan Area airport in Missouri and to raise tax funds to build and operate the facility.

Ronald Moore, Missouri airport engineer, told the transportation task force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's Regional Forum, that with a tax rate of from 5 to 10 cents taxpayers in St. Louis, County and Jefferson, Franklin and St. Charles counties could finance the facility under a system recently approved by St. Louis and St. Louis County voters to operate the zoo, art museum and other cultural institutions.

The move is aimed at keeping the airport from being constructed in Illinois which would mean a loss of about $30-million in potential tax revenue, up to $700-million per year from the sale of goods and services and about $5,000 new jobs to Missouri.

The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, appointed by Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie already selected a site between Waterloo and Columbia, Ill., as the best possible site for the new airport.

Missouri officials disagreed and began a $120,000 site study in that state to find an alternate site. The results of that study are expected to be announced Aug. 18 and preliminary reports indicate sites near Dardennes in central St. Charles County and at Smart Field, the St. Charles Municipal airport, would be suitable for a major airport.

Need Special Legislation

The special taxing district proposed by Missouri would require action by the state legislature, either in a special session or in the January session. A referendum would have to be approved by the voters, all taking time and putting Missouri further behind Illinois.

Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the authority commented that the delays necessitated by waiting for Missouri legislative action and a referendum could not be tolerated.

Saunders told the task force, "one or two years' delay is important because today, in airports, 1980 is here!"

"We have had an organization in being since August and studies are under way. Our job is to provide adequate capacity for St. Louis before we begin to build it," Saunders commented and added that the new facility will require nearly 10 years to build and by that time Lambert Field will be overcrowded.

St. Louis Mayor Alfonso J. Cervantes has long supported an Illinois site for the new airport, contending it would bring business into the St. Louis central business district rather than pull it away and into St. Louis County or elsewhere in Missouri.

Day of Robot Fighters May Not Be Far Away

A. U. S. Air Force pilot sometimes in the next few months will climb into a fighter cockpit, rev up the engine, taxi out and take off. Then he'll climb to altitude, turn his aircraft and turn around to have a cup of coffee with a buddy.

Not as fantastic as it sounds, this sequence will be possible because the pilot will be flying what may become the U. S. Air Force fighter plane of tomorrow—a remotely controlled craft by an earthbound pilot via television and radar.

After the coffee, the airman will step back to his TV-radar console to conduct the first remotely controlled air-to-air battle ever fought, unless the Russians get there first.

These and other Buck Rogers events will occur reasonably soon at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., and will involve a Ryan BMQ-34 Firebee 1 drone, modified with oversize wings and equipped with a nose-mounted TV camera and high-speed computer link.

Enacting the role of a high-performance fighter, the robot Firebee will go up against a manned fighter in mock combat.

Robot craft in the skies over the California desert may be the first tangible step in the development of pilotless combat planes so air wars of the future could be fought by remote control.

Beyond Planning Stage
Thus the project, opposed by some Air Force traditionalists but advocated by a group of younger officers, has reached beyond the long-range planning stage. The Air Force has invited 28 U. S. aerospace firms to submit proposals for concept studies of the RPVs—remotely piloted vehicles.

Members of one aerospace industry team preparing a proposal are Teledyne Ryan Aeronautical Co. and RCA. Long before it was merged with Teledyne, Ryan was a pioneer in the drone field. It built the first one 22 years ago at San Diego, Calif., and has been designing and putting together drones ever since.

The latest relatives in the drone family are Firebees 1 and II, the first a subsonic aerial target, the second a supersonic version. Firebees for many years have been a chief training tool for U. S. combat airmen in all the services.

Ryan would provide the airframe and power plant, RCA the TV and avionics equipment. The Air Force has asked for the RPV proposals by late this month. They are to include mission roles for air-to-air combat; air-to-ground weapons delivery and reconnaissance.

Under the RPV concept, the entire face of air war could change. There no longer would be close-in dogfights. Pilots instead would become console-bound jockeys operating banks of consoles in command centers hundreds of miles from the battle scene. Their weapons would be electronic and optional controls to join the foe in air-to-air or air-to-ground combat or to send up a robot spy to snap TV photos of enemy positions.

By Late 1978

A robot air arm could materialize by the late 1970s. Air Force advocates claim that if the RPV project is a success it could revolutionize aerial warfare, bringing back the relatively inexpensive mass-produced military aircraft and all but wipe out pilot losses.

The RPV also could be developed to achieve a variety of other missions. It could be used as a cheap tactical bomber, either dumping its weapons and returning home or plummeting into targets kamikaze style.

Or the drone could be used as a tactical decoy, drawing the fire of enemy antiaircraft guns and missiles away from manned aircraft. The additional role of a TV and camera-equipped spy plane is obvious.

Robot designers claim unmanned craft could perform more effectively than piloted planes. They could be built, for example, to withstand the impact of 12-G sustained velocity, nearly double the gravity pull a veteran pilot can tolerate even briefly.

Their turn rate could be stepped up to double that of manned aircraft, thereby giving them maneuverability surpassing that of the most advanced manned fighters over a broad spectrum of speeds and altitudes.

Twofold Interest
The Pentagon's interest in the RPV is twofold. Even in the high-performance aircraft of today, pilots are becoming increasingly more vulnerable to the accurate and deadly fire of sophisticated antiaircraft defense.

Moreover, the modern combat aircraft is so complex and expensive that air power seems about to price itself out of conventional warfare. As the price per plane climbs, the number purchased is dropping with each new generation of aircraft.

Air Force officials point to the F-47 of World War II which cost only $89,000, and the F-84 of the Korean war with a price tag of $469,000.

Today's F-4 Phantom sells for $3 million and tomorrow's Air Force F-15 fighter will cost at least $6 million per copy. The same sort of climbing price scale goes for Navy and Marine Corps aircraft.

On the other hand, one projected robot fighter that could be launched from a mother ship and recovered later would cost an estimated $250,000. It would weigh 3,500 pounds, including weapons payload, have an 18-foot wing span and could fly at Mach 2.5—2½ times the velocity of sound—for two minutes of pursuit.

A robot with a 250-mile range and a 2,200-ounce ammunition load would cost about $175,000.

The "expendable" RPV bomber, with a payload of about 1,500 pounds, could be assembly-line mass-produced for about $25,000 each, according to Pentagon estimates.

St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos has criticized Cervantes' comment, "Any Missouri official who doesn't support the Missouri location for a metropolitan airport is derelict in his duties as a Missourian."

The present airport authority has requested air space clearance for the Waterloo site from the FAA Federal Aviation Administration but FAA officials granted Missouri until August to complete its studies before committing air space in Illinois.

Western Union Opens As Long Strike Ends

The Western Union office in Granite City reopened Wednesday morning following an announcement Monday night by Western Union and the United Telegraph Workers of a contract agreement ending the eight-week nationwide strike that began June 1.

The local office at 1835 State St. is being manned by an office manager and one operator, the same staff as before the strike began.

A new two-year contract provides a 10% wage increase this year and a 5% increase next year, according to E. L. Hageman, president of the UTW. Hageman said the contract also contained improved life insurance, hospitalization benefits, daily expense allowances and vehicle allowances for auto messengers.

Governor Had Appropriate Setting for Signing Bill

By GOV. RICHARD B. OGILVIE
At a time of year when trimming budgets and cutting back on services are my most urgent concerns, the signing of House Bill 2617 was a rare pleasure.

That's the best that has happened to me since the "homestead exemption" on the tax valuation of their homes.

The audience for the brief ceremony where I formally signed the bill was an especially appropriate one—the Illinois session of the White House Conference on the Aging.

Those who were on hand for the occasion could appreciate just how important this legislation is to our citizens over 65 years of age.

"This is a tangible expression of the concern for the heavy burden of taxes borne by the elderly after their income-producing years."

What the bill does is allow senior citizens to claim a $1,500 reduction on the assessed value of their homes. Tax experts have estimated it will save the average elderly homeowner as much as $80 a year on his real estate taxes.

Take the senior citizen, for example, with a $10,000 home assessed at $10,000. If he pays a tax rate of $5 per $100 valuation, his total tax bill would be reduced from $500 to $425.

That 15% cut in property taxes is a substantial saving for an elderly couple living on a Social Security check and a small pension.

This tax cut marks the redemption of a promise we thought we had fulfilled two years ago. Then, a similar measure was passed and signed into law, but it was later invalidated by the Illinois Supreme Court as a violation of the 1870 state constitution.

We were finally able to keep our pledge because we were successful in winning approval for a new and more flexible state charter enabling us to provide this kind of relief.

The homestead exemption affects about one of every ten Illinois citizens—about 1,100,000 people over 65.

Major Objective
This was one of the major objectives of our efforts to reform our outmoded tax structure, and spread the burden of taxation more fairly among all our citizens.

Unfortunately, we run into roadblocks from time to time, as we did with the recent Supreme Court decision which threw out last fall's referendum abolishing the personal property tax on individuals.

The court's action nullified the work of hundreds of people toward building a more equitable tax structure, and the votes of nearly 3 million Illinois citizens who overwhelmingly ratified the constitutional amendment.

This decision was particularly distressing because we had fought the battle against the unfair personal property tax through the constitutional process.

We took the issue to the people, and by a 7-6 margin, the people's voice came through loud and clear.

The opinion is a setback—but we are determined that it be ONLY a setback, and NOT a permanent obstacle.

Fortunately, Attorney Gen. Bill Scott has announced that he will ask the court to reconsider its decision, and has pledged to carry the fight to the United States Supreme Court.

But in all the controversy and justifiable irritation over the court's decision, one fact has been largely overlooked: The law exempting from the personal property tax one automobile and the household furniture for each family is still on the books.

This means that for the average family, the personal property tax has been eliminated entirely or reduced to a token figure.

On top of that, the program we initiated two years ago for sharing with cities and counties one-twelfth of the revenues from the state income tax has succeeded in holding down increases—and in some cases actually enabling reductions—in your local real estate taxes.

So, whatever the court's action, we are still way ahead of where we were a couple of years ago when we began reforming our tax structure.

All of this does NOT mean that taxes generally are going down—or will be reduced soon. Any politician who promises that simply isn't telling the truth, or is blind to the facts of modern life.

During the recent legislative session, we succeeded again in holding the line against any increases in state taxes. Now, we are determined to build upon that accomplishment by assuring the fairest possible distribution of the tax burden among the citizens of Illinois.

QUESTION?
Who sells the most cars in Europe?
Is it Toyota?
Is it Volkswagen?
Is it Volvo?
Is it MG?

No it is FIAT.
In Europe where they've been buying small cars for three generations, they buy more Fiat than anything else. There must be a reason.

PRICES START AT $1750

Changes in Campaign Spending Law Sought

By MICHAEL O'CONNOR
Copley News Service

Washington—Congress is fast approaching a deadline period where it must decide if there are to be significant changes in the campaign spending law before the 1972 presidential election.

There is widespread bipartisan support in the House and Senate for changes in the federal Corrupt Practices Act, a 46-year-old statute intended to provide surveillance over who contributes money to political campaigns. In 1966 and 1967, the Senate passed reform bills but neither gained House approval.

Heavy pressure for broader reform has built since the 1968 presidential campaign when the costs of seeking elective office hit an all-time high.

The Citizens Research Foundation of Princeton, N.J., a reputable study group which has specialized in campaign financing, estimates that as much as $400 million will be spent next year by candidates for president and lesser offices. Advocates of broad reform contend that the high cost of running for national or statewide office, especially the marked increases in television expenses over the last decade, is turning politics into a province of the rich. They contend much more is spent than actually declared under provisions of the federal disclosure law.

Await Hearings
Six reform measures await hearings in the Senate Finance Committee. All generally are aimed at refining the requirements on listing campaign contributors, establishing limits on how much can be offered and attempting to put a standard on how much money can be used for television. The last provision is proving to be the stickiest for Democrats and Republicans to resolve.

According to surveys, such as those prepared by the CRF, campaign costs have increased dramatically since 1952 from 19 to 26 cents per vote at the present time. Those seeking to take the hard-sell advantages out of politics would like this reduced to a much smaller amount with 10 cents the current consensus figure.

Top leaders of both parties have indicated they will support spending reform and major bills carry Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., minority leader, as co-sponsors. President Nixon also wants some form of change.

Timing Important
Timing, however, is becoming increasingly important most observers feel a law must be enacted by December if it is to become effective for next year's election. It is considered doubtful that Congress would want to enact a spending bill after January in the second session of the 92nd Congress when the presidential campaign will be the dominant overriding consideration.

Mr. Nixon has indirectly indicated his support for a bill sponsored by Republicans Scott and Sen. Charles Mathias of Maryland. The strongest counterpart bill is being carried by Mansfield and Democratic Senators John Pastore of Rhode Island and Howard Cannon of Nevada.

Each would make reporting provisions more explicit but differ in the amount of allowable contributions and how money should be spent through television or other forms of advertising media.

Under current law, candidates and treasurers of political committees must file itemized account of contributors and expenditures with the House and Senate. Committees which raise the money are obligated to list names and addresses of contributors giving $100 or more six times a year. The candidates themselves do so twice each year.

Must List Total
Personal expenses need not be itemized but a total must be listed for public review.

Both parties acknowledge that the official filing often does not reflect the true level of campaign spending. There are widespread opportunities for abuse, however, as the House Standards of Official Conduct Committee concluded after hearings last year.

In its final report, the committee said election spending reform was hindered "by the dearth, if not virtual absence, of reliable information."

The Corrupt Practices Act, enacted in 1925 and amended occasionally since that time, has no provisions on television spending, the item which has become the single most expensive part of campaigning over the last decade. All of the measures now before the Senate would set standards in this category.

FEEDING TIME comes every three hours for the five wild rabbits being raised by Alan Valencia, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Valencia, 3252 Erin Drive. Alan found seven new-born rabbits behind his father's place of business on Johnson Road after the grass had been cut. Two have died, but the remaining five seem healthy and hearty after two weeks of human care.

Registration For Draft Required Despite Halt

Young men failing to register for the Selective Service at age 18 are breaking the law and may be prosecuted, according to Mrs. Ada Daniels, manager of the Madison County boards.

In a statement this week, Mrs. Daniels said, "Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr has recently stressed the importance of explaining to our draft-age men the high probability that draft calls will resume in the near future and that the current impasse in the congress is not likely to affect any registrant's chance of being drafted."

She said the local boards have been instructed to continue to register and classify men and to order preinduction physical examinations to young men needed to fill upcoming draft calls.

"Many young men seem to think that the Selective Service Act has permanently expired and that they probably never will be drafted. Some of them also think that the entire system has stopped."

"They are wrong since it is only the induction authority that has expired," she said, adding that young men failing to register, not reporting for physical examinations and not keeping boards informed of changes of status or address, are breaking the law.

Mrs. Daniels also stressed that local boards are continuing to consider conscientious objector, hardship and student deferments for classification actions. "Men who had planned to submit requests for deferments or exemptions are encouraged to do so," she said.

Questions concerning eligibility or status should be directed to Mrs. Daniels, Post Office, 132 N. Kansas St., Edwardsville, or will be answered at local boards.

Separate University—Industrial Development Director

(Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corporation)

Southern Illinois University here will become a separate university after Sept. 1 and Chancellor John S. Rendleman will become its first president, the SIU Board of Trustees has decided.

Each campus, here and at Carbondale, will become an autonomous unit reporting directly to the SIU board, which will continue as chief governing body for both universities.

In other action, the board of trustees approved a $18,650,000 capital improvements budget request for the 1972-73 school year at the local campus. SIU-SW is expected to use these funds to improve the dental school in Alton and university facilities in East St. Louis. The board announced also that all salaries would be frozen until October.

At a regular meeting of the directors of the Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corporation, President Arnold Cassens announced that 89% of the "special membership fund" drive had been pledged.

The directors are confident that the remaining $18,000 needed to reach the $50,000 goal will be pledged in the next couple of weeks. On that assurance, the Executive Director Selection Committee has been activated, with instructions to complete its duties rapidly. Madison and St. Clair Counties sewer and water improvement projects totaling more than $10 million were endorsed by a committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

The 11 projects, endorsed without dissent, previously were reviewed and approved by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission. Ten of the projects are in Madison County, including projects for Glen Carbon, Edwardsville, Bethalto and most of northern Madison County. The only St. Clair County project is in New Athens.

The Illinois Division of Highways has awarded seven major contracts in this region. Five of the contracts, totaling about $3 million, are in St. Clair County, one is in Madison County and one is in Monroe County.

Plans to improve Illinois 159 from Fairview Heights to Collinsville were approved by the executive advisory committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council. The 3.27-mile section has one of the highest accident rates in this area. In Wood River Township, officials backed the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's approval of the relocation of Route 143.

In general development news, the Belleville City Council voted to annex new territory. The areas involved are North Belt Homesites, a small community on North 57th Street; and the Township; four houses and sites on North 57th Street; and the site for a rest home in the 200 block of South Belt West.

The Edwardsville Planning Commission voted to accept the final plat of the Kettle River subdivision, located south of Edwardsville on Illinois 139.

NI Industries, Inc. is the new name of the National Lead Company, whose Steel Package Division is located in Granite City.

Edwardsville Community Books, Inc., has leased a building at 211 North Main St. to house Edwardsville's first book store. Also, in Edwardsville, a catalog store at 112 North Second St. plans to expand and relocate at 116 Hillboro Ave. The catalog store will become a satellite store, with room for display of major and general appliances.

Laclede Steel has employed the services of Ryckman, Edgerly, Tomlinson & Associates, a firm of environmental experts, to assist the company in conducting an extensive survey and field sampling program to determine Laclede's needs in order to comply with Illinois' proposed new water pollution control regulations.

In other environmental news, Pride, Inc., directors voted to oppose construction in Pride's annual Operation Clean Lake; and the Cahokia Mound Council of Boy Scouts held an ecology parade and display July 24. The parade was followed by a forum at the Granite City recreation center, with talks by Dr. George Arnold, Hanly Smith and Dr. Melvin Kazek.
